Mission Statement

Our mission is to take the student-athlete where he cannot take himself.

We create an environment that teaches young men to:

- Relentlessly pursue the ACC championship, while always embracing the highest ideals of intercollegiate athletics and staying within the academic mission of the University of Maryland.
- Appreciate and embrace cultural diversity.
- Grow and develop as leaders, as students, and as individuals.
- Embrace a commitment to each other, based on honesty, integrity, and strength of character.
- Strive to seek excellence in everything we do.

One Heartbeat

Our program is built on the premise that each person's individual integrity will be honored. The respect, affection and care existing between the players and the coaching staff will create the chemistry that will mold our football team into a family. We will operate on one heartbeat...because we are one.

The Maryland football program will transform today's student-athlete into tomorrow's leader, by creating an environment where excellence is pursued academically, athletically and socially.

Since Ron Vanderlinden took over as head coach prior to the 1997 season, 80 percent of the players in his three senior classes have earned their diplomas or are on track to graduate. In the 1999 senior class, the percentage was an astounding 94 percent (15 of 16), including five of six players who signed NFL contracts following the season. In 1998, the percentage was 69 percent (9 of 13). In 1997, 75 percent of the players in Coach Vanderlinden's senior class have earned or are close to earning their degrees, including two who went on to play in the NFL.

No Better Place to Be!

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. As Washingtonian magazine noted, ". . .kids are turning down schools like Princeton and Virginia to go to College Park."

With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are more than 100 majors and some of the highest ranked programs in the country. For instance, in the latest U.S. News & World Report rankings, University of Maryland ranked 22nd among national public universities. Among graduate schools, the Clark School of Engineering tied for 17th nationally; the Robert H. Smith School of Business graduate program ranked 26th; the computer science Ph.D program in the College of Computer, Mathematical and Physical Sciences ranked 11th; the College of Education ranked 22nd; and the College of Library and Information Services ranked 14th. The College of Business also has been named one of the country's top business schools for entrepreneurs by Success magazine.

High tech, engineering, and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internships, work-study opportunities and career choices for students. And, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities.

There truly is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

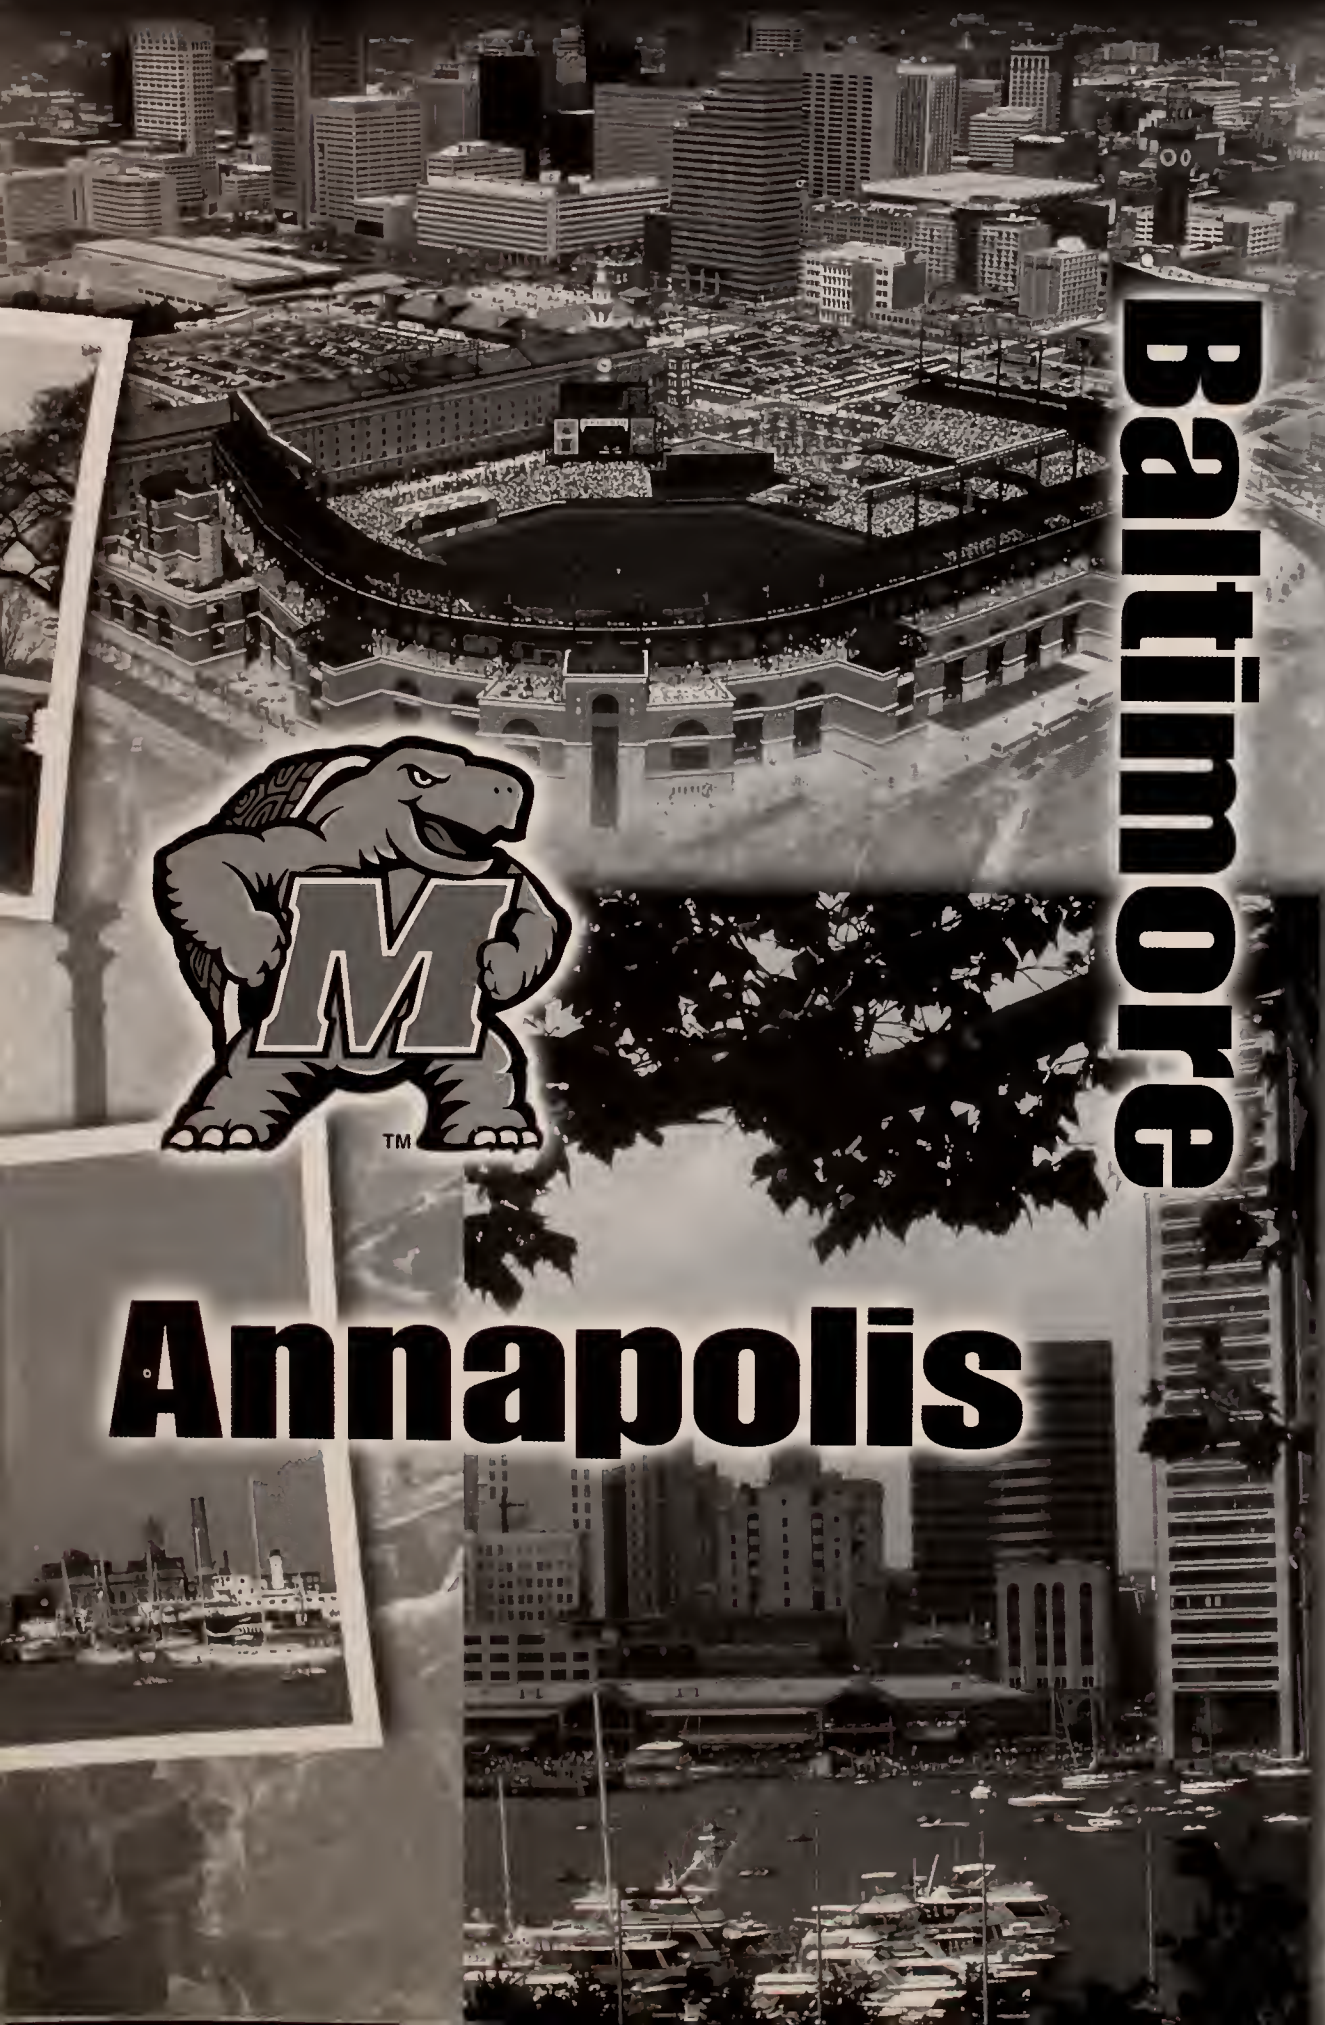
Someplace Special

Washington, D.C.



City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.

It's all here beyond the University of Maryland campus.

WASHINGTON, D.C.
The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of Byrd Stadium. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttle buses serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

BALTIMORE
The 12th largest city in the United States is often referred to as the "Charm City." Located just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland, its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports.

ANNAPOLIS
The state capital of Maryland lies just 30 miles east of the University of Maryland. Long called the "sailing capital of the United States," Annapolis is located at the mouth of the Severn River on the Chesapeake Bay. The historic downtown area is known for its wonderful eating and shopping opportunities. There are few places in the world that rival the Chesapeake Bay area for its appealing qualities.

Over the years Maryland has carved a well-earned reputation as Quarterback U, producing no less than 13 players who have gone on to play the position in the National Football League. Here's a brief look at some of the Terps' most celebrated signal-callers.

Jack Scarbath (1950-52) — Maryland's split T quarterback was runner-up to Billy Vessels for the Heisman Trophy and was a unanimous All-America selection in 1952. Named Sport magazine's "Sportsman of the Year," Scarbath was a unanimous All-South selection and the Southern Conference Player of the Year. In three seasons, the Terps were 24-4-1 with Scarbath as QB, including 10-0 in 1951. He went on to become Maryland's second first-round draft pick, going to Washington in 1953.

Dick Shiner (1961-63) — An honorable mention All-American selection in 1962, Shiner was a three-year starter for the Terps. He was a two-time first team All-ACC choice who helped lead the Terps to a 21-17 win over Penn State in just his seventh game as the signal-caller. He was later drafted by the Washington Redskins and went on to play 11 years in the NFL.

Bob Avellini (1972-74) — In his first start as a sophomore, he showed a glimpse of things to come, setting school marks for total offense (312 yards) and passing yards (314) while completing 21 of 31 passes in a game vs. Duke. He still ranks among the most accurate passers in school history, completing 58.6 percent of his passes for 3,222 yards. A sixth-round draft choice of the Chicago Bears in 1975, he went on to have a 10-year NFL career.

Boomer Esiason (1981-83) — He was a two-time All-American who set 17 school records and led the Terps to the ACC championship in 1983 and a berth in the Tangerine Bowl. Arguably the most prolific left-handed quarterback in NFL history, Esiason was a four-time Pro Bowl selection and spent 14 seasons in pro football. In 1988, he was named the league's MVP and led his Cincinnati Bengals to Super Bowl XXIII against the San Francisco 49ers.

Frank Reich (1983-84) — Best known for leading the Buffalo Bills back from a 32-point deficit in the 1992 NFL playoffs against Houston, he also commanded the greatest comeback in the college game as well. On Nov. 10, 1984, Reich replaced Stan Gelbaugh at halftime against No. 6 Miami (Fla.) down 31-0. Thirty minutes later, Maryland pulled off the miracle upset, 42-40, preserving its run for a second consecutive ACC title. He finished the season as one of the top-rated passers in the country. He was drafted in the third round of the 1985 draft by Buffalo and appeared in four Super Bowls.

Stan Gelbaugh (1984-85) — He played behind Boomer Esiason and Frank Reich before moving into the Terps' starting lineup in 1984 when Reich went down with a shoulder injury. Gelbaugh stepped in to lead Maryland to four wins and a narrow one-point loss on the road to Penn State. The following season, the anticipation of Gelbaugh's return brought the Terps a preseason No. 1 ranking by Sport magazine. The Terps went on to win the ACC title and a Cherry Bowl championship in '85. He served a pair of NFL clubs, the Buffalo Bills and Seattle Seahawks.

Neil O'Donnell (1987-89) — A two-year starter for the Terps, he ended his career in the No. 2 spot on most major Maryland passing charts. Drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1990, he became the team's franchise player during his six seasons on the team, making a Pro Bowl appearance in only his second year and leading the Steelers to an appearance in Super Bowl XXX. O'Donnell continued his career with the New York Jets, Cincinnati Bengals and Tennessee Titans.

Scott Zolak (1989-90) — Despite starting just one season for the Terps, he finished his collegiate career among Terp leaders in passing yards (3,124) and completions (270). His 2,589 passing yards in 1990 ranked as the second-highest single-season total in school history and helped earn him honorable mention All-America recognition from Football News. He was taken in the fourth round of the 1991 NFL draft by the New England Patriots.

Scott Milanovich (1993-95) — He left campus as one of the most decorated Terrapin QB's ever. In fact, Milanovich still owns or shares 35 Maryland passing records, including career standards for total offense (7,301), touchdowns (49) and completions (650). He was drafted in 1996 by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Decade of Success

In the decade of the '90s, the ACC posted the second-best bowl record of any Division I-A conference for conferences with at least 20 appearances. The ACC is 24-21-1 in postseason play, a .533 winning percentage and second only to the SEC's 34-24 mark (.586).

Conference	App	W-L	Pct.
SEC	58	34-24	.586
ACC	46	24-21-1	.533
Big Ten	58	30-27-1	.526
Big 12	22	10-12	.455
Big East	31	14-17	.452
Pacific-10	48	21-27	.438
WAC	33	12-20-1	.379

Now in its 48th year of competition, the Atlantic Coast Conference has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

- ACC teams have won five national titles since 1953, including three in the decade of the '90s.
- The ACC had five teams play in post-season bowl games for the second year in a row.
- The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference with an 83-73-5 mark.
- The ACC was the second winningest bowl conference in the decade of the '90s with a 24-21-1 record.
- The ACC is the only conference to have each of its teams play in a bowl game in the decade of the '90s.
- The ACC had six consensus All-Americans in 1999, including two unanimous selections.
- The ACC has had 17 consensus All-Americans over the past three years, more than any other conference.
- The ACC had 14 players earn All-America honors in 1999, including 10 first team selections.
- In 1999, the ACC produced eight freshman All-Americans.
- The ACC is 14-9 against non-league ranked teams over the past two years.
- The ACC had the nation's third-best non-conference winning percentage in the decade of the '90s.
- Four ACC players were taken in the first round of the 2000 NFL draft, giving the league more first round draft choices in the last four years (23) than any other conference in the country except the SEC.
- For the ninth straight year, ACC football teams drew more than 2.2 million fans in 1999. Over 51 home and neutral site dates, the nine ACC schools attracted 2,355,996 fans while averaging 46,196 per game, the second-highest total in league history.

ACC No. 1 Bowl Conference

The ACC is the all-time winningest conference in the nation in terms of bowl success. The nine current ACC teams are a combined 81-70-5 (.535) in bowl game play.

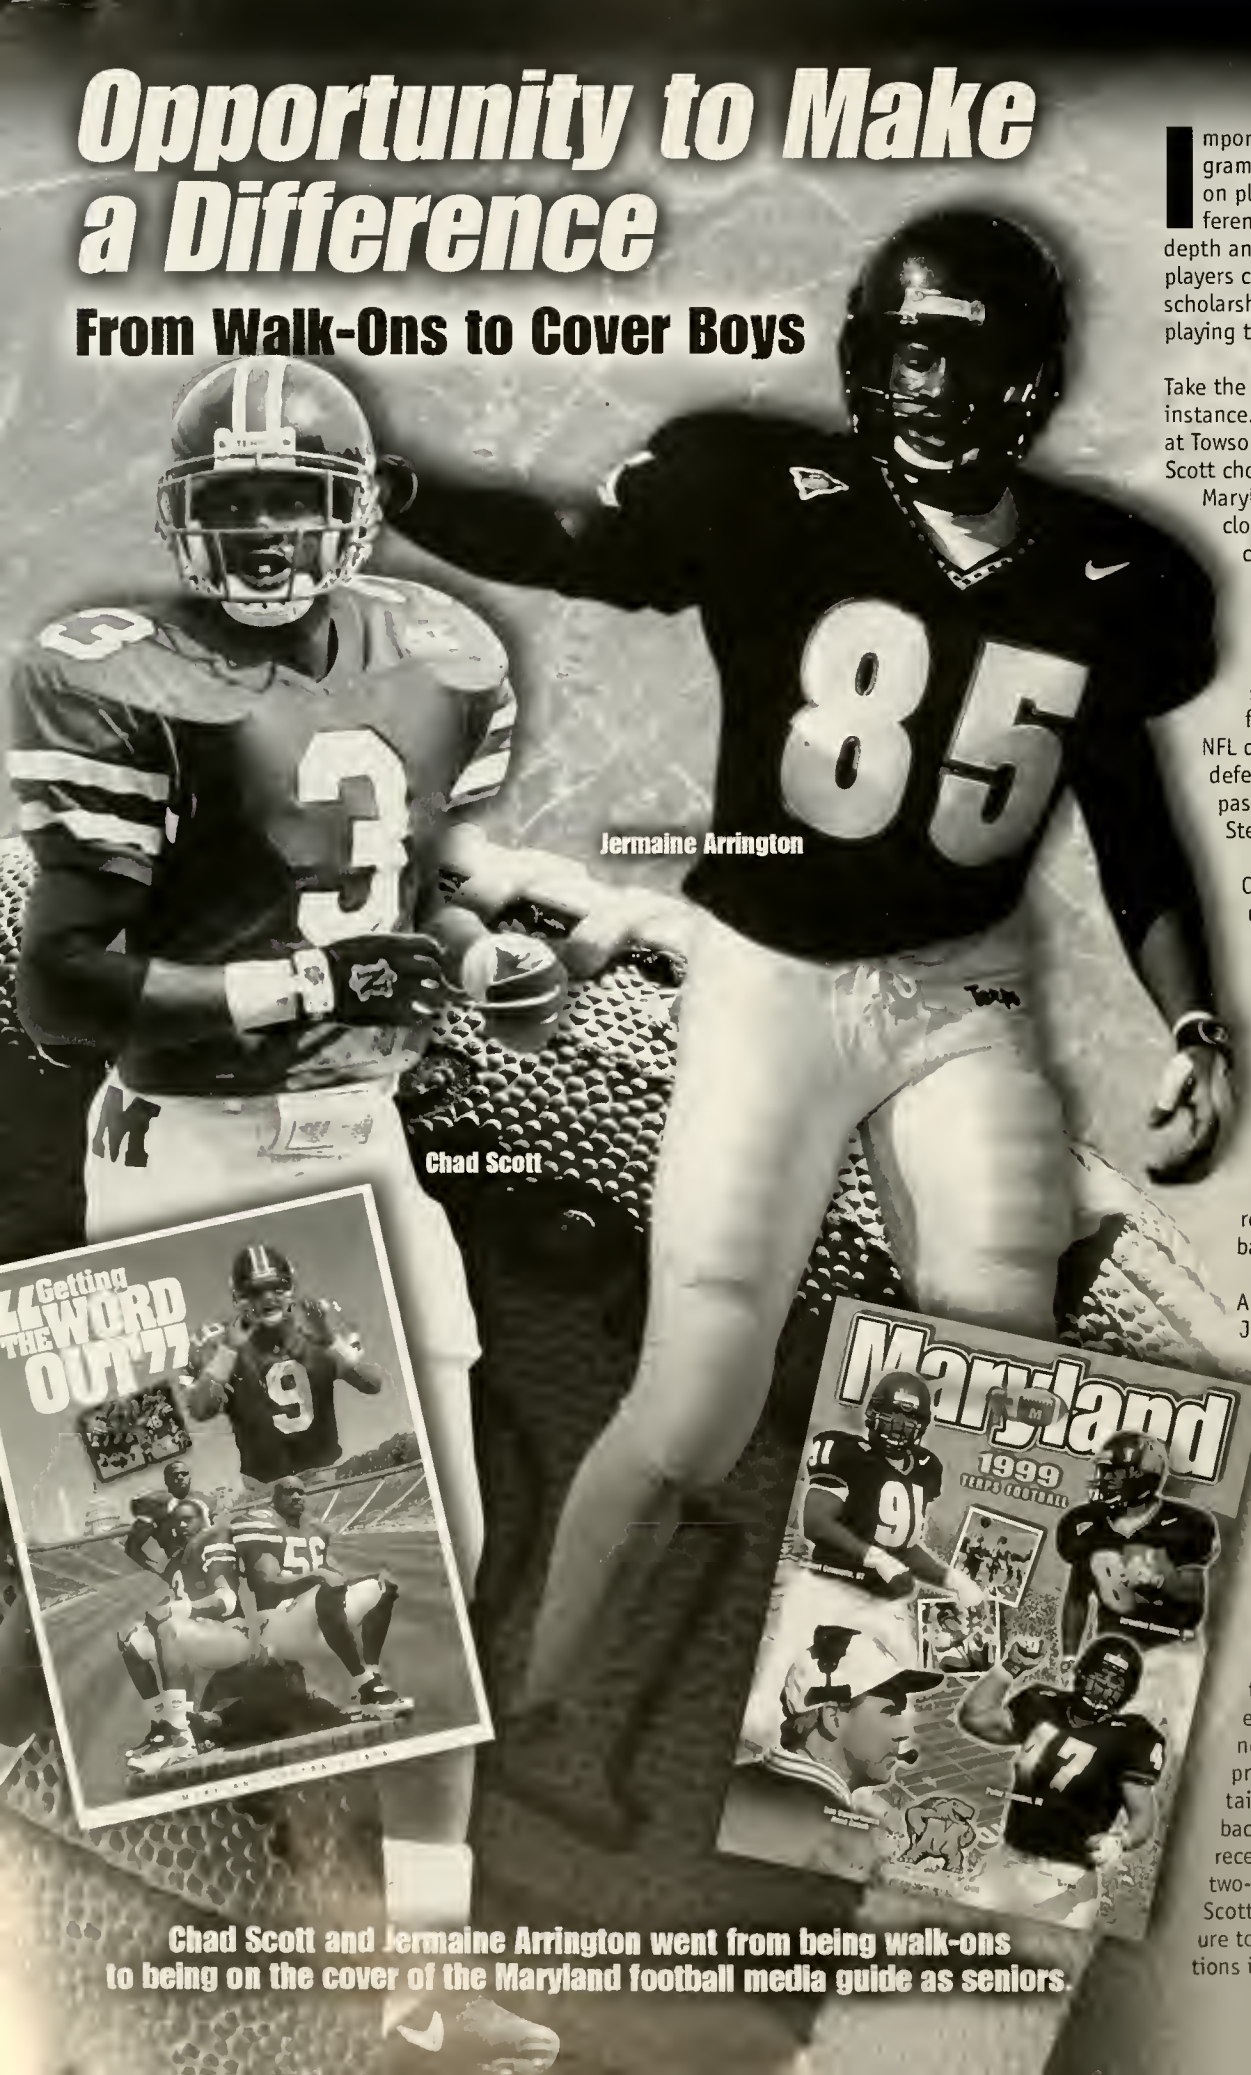
Opportunity to Make a Difference

From Walk-Ons to Cover Boys



Chad Scott and Jermaine Arrington went from being walk-ons to being on the cover of the Maryland football media guide as seniors.

Important to any college program are walk-on players. Walk-on players not only make a difference in aiding a team's depth and continuity, but walk-on players can also earn their own scholarship and bid for significant playing time.

Take the case of Chad Scott, for instance. After playing two seasons at Towson State in 1993 and 1994, Scott chose to walk on at Maryland, uninvited. By the close of his first semester on campus, Scott was awarded a scholarship and he became a Terrapin co-captain for his senior year in 1996. The rest, as they say, is history. Scott was a first round pick in the 1997 NFL draft and, now, is chasing defenders and intercepting passes for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Chad Scott exemplifies the ultimate walk-on portfolio. However, every season at the University of Maryland, there are walk-on players who find their niche and contribute greatly to the Terrapin program. With recent scholarship reductions, walk-on players have become a vital component to the rebuilding of Maryland football fortunes.

Another example is receiver Jermaine Arrington who walked on and was the Terps' leading wide receiver in 1998. The former track star signed an NFL free agent contract with the San Francisco 49ers following the 1999 season. Arrington is one of several Maryland players who attended as walk-ons, with the opportunity to make a difference. Among a few of the notables found on the Terps' preseason depth chart are tailback Mukala Sikyala, linebacker Monté Graves, wide receiver Daryl Whitmer, and two-year starting long-snapper Scott Rudolph, all of whom figure to make important contributions in 2000.

Ron Vanderlinden

Head Coach

Ron Vanderlinden, who was brought in to revive Maryland's football program because of his hands-on experience in two previous highly successful reclamation projects, knows the telltale signs of improvement when he sees them.

And those signs — both on the field and off — are clearly evident to the 44-year-old Terrapin head coach as he enters year No. 4 of his rebuilding phase.

Just last season, the Terps came within one first down of reaching a bowl game for the first time since 1990, posting as many wins in 1999 (5) as they had in the previous two seasons. Maryland, which received votes in national polls for seven consecutive weeks, had one of the nation's premier offensive performers in running back LaMont Jordan, who spearheaded an offense that posted the 10th-highest scoring average in school history and ranked No. 1 in the Atlantic Coast Conference in rushing just three seasons removed from a dead-last finish in that category. The Terps had three first team All-ACC selections (the most since 1986) and five players earned All-America citations of one kind or another.

With 15 returning starters — seven on offense, six on defense, and both kicking specialists — among 40 returning lettermen, all signs point toward continued improvement for the Terrapin football program under Vanderlinden's leadership.

The challenge facing Vanderlinden when he took over as Maryland's 33rd head coach in December 1996 loomed large. The Terps had posted just two winning seasons in the previous 11 years and had finished no higher than fourth place in the ACC during that stretch. Moreover, he inherited a roster that, at least offensively, was built around the run-and-shoot.

It all added up to a major reconstruction project for Vanderlinden, who was selected to the post primarily for his previous experience in helping to revive dormant programs at Colorado and Northwestern.

"I absolutely think Maryland should be one of the premier programs in the country," said Vanderlinden when he was introduced as the Terps' head coach. "We have a beautiful campus in a great location, first-class facilities and an impressive stadium, a supportive administration committed to winning, and a large fan base with enthusiastic boosters. These are the essential ingredients necessary for success."

Since arriving in College Park, Vanderlinden has been tireless in his efforts to awaken the Terrapins' grid fortunes, focusing on his twin goals of "graduating all of our players and winning the [conference] championship."

Those were similar goals during his days at Northwestern, where he served as Gary Barnett's assistant head coach and defensive coordinator from 1992-96. In that span, a moribund Northwestern program — one that hadn't posted a winning season in more than 20 years — was transformed into a two-time Big Ten Conference champion and Rose Bowl participant. The Wildcats won five league games in the first three seasons, but then went 15-1 in conference play on the way to capturing consecutive Big Ten titles in 1995 and '96. Northwestern played USC in the 1996 Rose Bowl and Tennessee in the 1997 Citrus Bowl.

At Northwestern, Vanderlinden was the chief architect of a defensive unit that in 1995 finished first nationally in scoring defense (17.2 ppg) and third nationally in turnover margin (+1.82 pg). In '96, the Wildcats finished 19th nationally in turnover margin. In addition to heading up Northwestern's defensive efforts, Vanderlinden oversaw the inside linebackers and punt return unit. The Wildcats were among the nation's top 10 punt return teams three times, finishing first in '92, fourth in '93 and ninth in '95.

During his tenure at Northwestern, Vanderlinden recruited and coached several of the most outstanding players in school history. Under his guidance, Northwestern's Pat Fitzgerald was the 1995 and '96 Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year and a two-time All-American. Fitzgerald also was named the Chuck Bednarik and Bronko Nagurski national defensive player of the year in '95, as well as the national defensive player of the year by Chevrolet and Sports Illustrated.

The success enjoyed on the field by the Wildcats was congruent with Vanderlinden's philosophy of high academic achievement. Northwestern earned recognition by the College Football Association as one of the exemplary academic programs in the nation.

Vanderlinden came to Northwestern after coaching Colorado's defensive line for nine years (1983-91), where he played a key role in turning around CU's program. Only three years after his arrival in Boulder as an assistant to Bill McCartney, the Buffaloes advanced to their first bowl game in nine seasons. All told, CU would make six bowl trips during Vanderlinden's final seven seasons on the staff, including the 1990 campaign, when the Buffaloes defeated Notre Dame and won the national championship.

In addition to his responsibilities coaching the defensive line, Vanderlinden also served as the Buffaloes' recruiting coordinator for two years (1985-86). While at CU, he coached three All-Americans and five first team All-Big Eight selections. From 1985-91, Colorado's defensive unit was considered among the best in the country, ranking No. 10 for fewest touchdowns allowed, 11th in fewest points allowed and 18th in total defense.

It was Vanderlinden's hands-on experience in two successful and stunning rebuilding efforts which attracted him to Maryland athletic director Deborah A. Yow.

"Ron won unanimous support of our selection committee, and that was great because he was always my top choice," said Yow. "Everyone has said that he is a dynamic coach, that he is knowledgeable, a relentless recruiter and a tireless worker. He's done twice what we want a coach to do: build up a program. And the rebuilding jobs were at good academic schools in Colorado and Northwestern. Based on those credentials, he was an early front runner."

Vanderlinden began his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Bowling Green State University under Denny Stolz in 1978. He then moved on to the University of Michigan, where he was a graduate assistant in 1979 and '80 on Bo Schembechler's staff. During his time in Ann Arbor, Michigan participated in both the Gator and Rose bowls.

His first full-time coaching position came at Ball State University in 1982, where he worked with the offensive line for two years. From Ball State he moved to Colorado, then to Northwestern.

Said Bill McCartney, former head coach at Colorado: "Ron is a student of the game. He brings energy and fire to the game. I expect Maryland to be a physical and very versatile football team. I expect them to run with authority and pass with continuity. On defense, I expect they will play with an aggressive, challenging style."

Vanderlinden earned his bachelor's degree from Albion (Mich.) College in 1978. A four-year starter at center, he was a two-time first team all-conference selection, earning the honor as a junior and senior, when Albion posted undefeated seasons. Albion also participated in the first Division III playoff game in school history. He also earned three varsity letters in baseball.

A native of Livonia, Mich., Vanderlinden and his wife, Lisa, have a daughter, Chelsea, and a son, Reid. Vanderlinden is one of seven children born to Pete and the late Mary Vanderlinden. Pete was one of 14 children born to Belgian immigrants of Dutch descent.

Ran Vanderlinden threw aut the first pitch at Oriale Park at Camden Yards an June 9, 2000 as the Orioles took an the Phillies.

Wally Ake

Defensive Coordinator/ Outside Linebackers

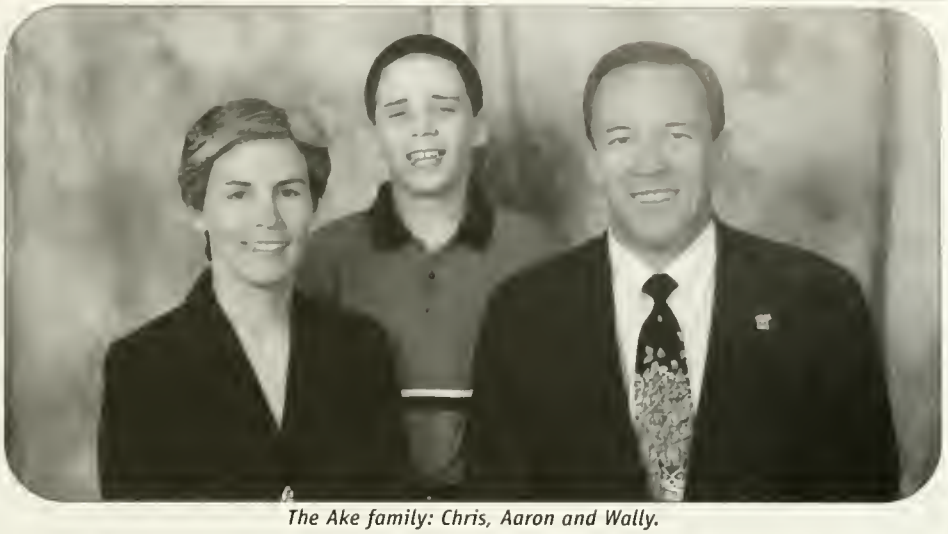
Wally Ake, who has overseen significant climbs by the Terrapin defense in national statistical rankings since 1997, is in his fourth year as Maryland's defensive coordinator. He also is responsible for the Terps' outside linebackers.

In his three years leading the Terps' defensive effort, Maryland has jumped 46 spots in scoring defense, 34 spots in rushing defense and 25 spots in total defense. Last year's team recorded a pair of shutouts in a single season for the first time in nearly two decades. A pair of Terp standouts – defensive tackle Delbert Cowsette and cornerback Lewis Sanders – earned first team All-ACC honors, marking the first time since 1986 Maryland had as many as two first team All-ACC selections on the defensive side of the ball.

Maryland's inside linebackers have been among the ACC's tackle leaders both years under Ake's guidance. Last year, Marlon Moore finished second in the ACC in average tackles per game; two seasons ago, Kendall Ogle and Eric Barton finished 2-3 in the conference tackle race and went on to be drafted into the NFL.

In 1998, Maryland had the nation's 12th most-improved team in terms of total defense, according to final NCAA statistical rankings. Maryland ranked 53rd nationally in average yards allowed, a 34-position jump from the previous year. The Terps also ranked as the nation's 13th most-improved unit in points allowed and 14th most-improved team in passing defense.

Ake, who has been part of 13 bowl teams during a 20-year college coaching career, joined Vanderlinden's staff in 1997 after a three-year stint as defensive coordinator at Rice University, where he helped lead the Owls to a 7-4 record and a second-place Western Athletic Conference Mountain Division finish in 1996. In 1994, Rice's defensive unit finished among the nation's top 25 in four categories as the Owls captured a share of the Southwest Conference title. In addition to coordinating Rice's defense from 1994-96, he coached the Owls' defensive line (1996) and the inside linebackers (1994-95).



The Ake family: Chris, Aaron and Wally.

Ake previously worked in the Atlantic Coast Conference when he served as Clemson's inside linebackers coach from 1990-93. Under Ake's defensive leadership, the Tigers participated in the 1993 Peach Bowl, the 1991 Citrus Bowl and the 1990 Hall of Fame Bowl. Clemson's 1990 squad ranked first in the nation in total defense, while the 1991 team was ranked No. 1 against the rush.

Prior to his stint at Clemson, Ake spent six years on the coaching staff at University of Arkansas, where he coached the defensive line from 1984-88 and the linebackers in 1989. During his time in Fayetteville, the Razorbacks captured two consecutive Southwest Conference titles (1988-89) and played in bowl games all six seasons, including the Orange Bowl (1986) and the Cotton Bowl (1988-89).

Ake, 50, is a 1972 graduate of the College of William & Mary, the same school where he launched his college coaching career in 1979. He graduated from Falls Church (Va.) High School in 1968. He later spent five seasons on the coaching staff at Falls Church, serving as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach from 1974-77 and as head coach in '78. After starting his college coaching career at College of William & Mary in '79, he moved on to Arkansas as a graduate assistant in 1980 before serving a three-year stint (1981-83) as defensive line coach at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

He and his wife, Chris, have one son, Aaron.

Bob Heffner

Offensive Coordinator Tight Ends/Offensive Tackles

Bob Heffner, whose father, Fred, played for the Terps' national championship team in 1953, is in his fourth season on Maryland's coaching staff and his second year as offensive coordinator. He also is responsible for the tight ends and offensive tackles.

Last year, in his first season directing the Terrapins' offensive unit, Maryland posted the 10th-highest scoring average in school history and best in the last seven seasons. Maryland ranked first in the ACC and 12th nationally in rushing yards per game (234.1), and tailback LaMont Jordan earned second team All-America honors after finishing fifth in the country in rushing.

Maryland also continued to show significant improvement in protecting its quarterback in '99, allowing an ACC-low 11 sacks in 251 throwing situations. Also, quarterback Calvin McCall finished second nationally among I-A freshmen quarterbacks in total offense and passing efficiency. All told, Maryland jumped 38 spots in NCAA rushing offense rankings and 51 spots in NCAA total offense rankings.

Heffner, who brought 17 years of coaching experience with him to College Park, joined the Maryland staff after serving as offensive line coach at Northern Illinois in 1996. Heffner coached at Lafayette College for a total of five seasons on two separate occasions prior to Northern Illinois. He was Lafayette's offensive coordinator and offensive line coach from 1993-95 and offensive line coach in 1988-89. During his time at the Easton, Pa., school, Lafayette claimed Patriot League championships in 1988 and '94.

Between his coaching stops at Lafayette, Heffner spent four years in the professional ranks. He served as the director of player personnel and offensive coordinator for the Arena League champion Tampa Bay Storm in 1993 and as offensive line and running backs coach for the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League.

During his time with British Columbia, the Lions' Doug Flutie was voted the CFL's Most Valuable Player after setting the league record for passing yards in a season, and Jim Mills was named the league's Most Valuable Offensive Lineman in 1990 and '91.

Heffner began his collegiate coaching career with Illinois State as the interior defensive line coach in 1981 before taking over as offensive line coach during a seven-year stay with the Redbirds. Under his guidance, Illinois State had two offensive linemen earn All-American recognition and eight claim first team all-conference honors. In addition, three backs posted 1,000-yard rushing seasons.

A 1979 graduate of Temple, Heffner earned three letters as an offensive guard and played on Owl teams that made Mirage Bowl appearances in '77 and '78. He then served as a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater in 1979, helping the Owls to a Garden State Bowl victory over California that same year.

Heffner, 44, and his wife, Nancy, have three daughters, Katie, Molly and Shelby.

Mike Gundy

Passing Game Coordinator/ Quarterbacks

Mike Gundy, a four-year starting quarterback at Oklahoma State who still figures prominently in the Cowboys' record book, is in his fourth season on the Maryland coaching staff and his first as passing game coordinator/quarterbacks coach.

Gundy, who tutored the wide receivers his first three seasons on the staff, is returning to his natural coaching position. A record-setting quarterback during his playing days at Oklahoma State, Gundy coordinated the passing game and coached quarterbacks at Baylor and was quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator at Oklahoma State.

For the past three seasons, Gundy has overseen the development of a young and emerging wide receiver corps which returns three of its top four wideouts from 1999.

The Gundy family: Mike, Gavin and Kristen.

Prior to his arrival in College Park, Gundy spent one season as an assistant coach at Baylor (1996) and six seasons as an assistant coach at Oklahoma State (1990-95). At Baylor, Gundy was the Bears' passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach; at Oklahoma State, he started out as wide receivers coach, took over as quarterbacks coach in 1992, and was elevated to offensive coordinator in 1994.

During his four seasons as a starting QB at Oklahoma State (1986-89), Gundy established most major school passing records and finished his career as the Big Eight's all-time leader in total offense. A three-year team captain, Gundy led the Cowboys to a cumulative record of 29-14 as a starter. Major school records set by Gundy included passing yards in a game (429) and season (2,203); career (58.3 percent) and season (64.8 percent) completion percentage; and completions in a game (27) and season (170).

Gundy, who shared the same backfield with two of football's greatest tailbacks (Barry Sanders and Thurman Thomas), helped lead the Cowboys to back-to-back 10-2 seasons in 1987 and '88. Oklahoma State defeated West Virginia in the '87 Sun Bowl and Wyoming in the '88 Holiday Bowl. He ranked second nationally in passing efficiency in '88. That same year, Oklahoma State led the nation in touchdowns (70) and points scored (522). Gundy was selected to play in the 1990 Japan Bowl following his senior season.

The 33-year-old Gundy and his wife, Kristen, have one son, Gavin. Gundy's brother, Cale, was a four-year starting quarterback at Oklahoma.

Levern Belin

Defensive Tackles

Levern Belin, who helped tutor nose guard Delbert Cowsette to first team All-ACC honors in 1999, is in his second season as a defensive line coach with the Terrapins.

The Terrapins ranked 39th nationally in rushing defense in Belin's first year, allowing an average of 126.4 rushing yards per game, the best mark by a Maryland team since 1985.

Belin joined the Maryland staff in the spring of 1999 following a five-year stay in a similar position at Ball State University. Between his time at Ball State and Maryland he had a brief stay at the University of Connecticut, where he was named the Huskies' defensive line coach in December 1998.

At Ball State, Belin helped guide one of the top run defenses in the Mid-American Conference. Belin coached the outside linebackers his first year before handling the defensive ends for his final four seasons. Under Belin's guidance, the Cardinals' defensive ends helped the Cardinals' defense rank first in the MAC and 34th in the nation in fewest yards allowed in 1997.

In addition, Belin helped Ball State's defense rank second in the MAC in rushing defense and scoring defense in 1996, while ranking 18th nationally in scoring defense and 26th in rushing defense. The 1996 team also ranked 32nd in the nation in total defense. Ball State's 1996 defense ranked first in the MAC in passing defense and second in scoring defense and total defense. Nationally, the Cardinals were fourth in the country in passing and total defense and 15th in scoring defense in 1995.

Belin, 31, launched his college coaching career in 1991 as a graduate assistant coach at Boston College, where he coached the defensive backs. In 1992, he was named to a full-time position on the staff at Boston University as defensive line coach. He then spent one season as an assistant coach at East Tennessee State coaching the linebackers prior to joining the staff at Ball State.

A 1991 graduate of Wake Forest, Belin was a three-year letterwinner and three-year starter at inside linebacker for the Demon Deacons under Bill Dooley from 1988-90.

Belin and his wife, DeVida, were married in July 2000 in East Chicago, Ind.

Mike Locksley, who has played a key role in the major turnaround in Maryland's running game the past three seasons, is in his fourth season on the Maryland staff and his third as recruiting coordinator.

Last season, the Terps completed a dramatic turnaround in the rushing department, leading the ACC in average yards per game (234.1) just two seasons after finishing ninth in the league in that category. Led by second team All-American LaMont Jordan, who finished fifth nationally in rushing yards per game, Maryland ranked 12th in the country in rushing in 1999. Two seasons ago, the Terps registered the nation's sixth-biggest jump in rushing yards per game by nearly doubling their output from the previous season.

The Locksley family: Kai, Mike, Mike, Jr., Kori, Kia and Meika.

Three years ago under Locksley's tutelage, Jordan broke most major Maryland freshman rushing standards on way to finishing runner-up for ACC Rookie of the Year honors.

Locksley, who also serves as the Terps' recruiting coordinator, has been instrumental in coordinating improved signing classes by the Terps, including the 2000 class which was ranked among the nation's top 25 by one analyst.

Born Christmas Day 1969 in Washington, D.C., Locksley is a 1992 graduate of Towson University, where he was a three-year starter in the Tigers' backfield from 1988-91. Locksley, who started one year at cornerback and two at safety, was named his team's defensive MVP as a senior. He finished 19th on the school's all-time tackles list. Locksley also was a member of Towson's basketball team during the 1991-92 season.

A graduate of Towson in business administration, Locksley began his coaching career overseeing special teams and defensive backs at his alma mater in 1992. He moved on to the United States Naval Academy Prep School (NAPS) in Newport, R.I., where he served as defensive coordinator, defensive line coach and head track and field coach.

In 1995, Locksley was named an assistant coach at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif., where he oversaw the outside linebackers and special teams. He then returned to the East Coast, accepting a position coaching the wide receivers and tight ends at Army. During his one-year stint at Army, the Cadets defeated rival Navy and appeared in the Independence Bowl. At Army, he helped develop tight end Ron Leshinski, who earned All-East honors.

Locksley, 30, and his wife, Kia, have three sons, Mike, Jr., Meiko and Kai, and a daughter, Kori.

Doug Mallory

Defensive Backs

Doug Mallory, an honorable mention All-American safety during his playing days at Michigan, is in his fourth season coaching Maryland's defensive backs. He is joined on the Maryland coaching staff this season by his brother Mike, who handles the linebackers.

Under Mallory's guidance, Maryland's 1998 secondary made tremendous strides statistically, ranking as the country's 14th most improved unit in NCAA pass efficiency defense ratings. Last year, cornerback Lewis Sanders earned third team All-America honors after sharing the NCAA lead in takeaways (six interceptions, three fumble recoveries) and later was drafted in the fourth round by the Cleveland Browns.

In the last two seasons, Maryland has picked off 28 passes, including an ACC- and school-record tying seven in a 1998 road win vs. Duke.

Son of former Indiana head coach Bill Mallory, Doug is in his 13th season coaching at the collegiate level. He began his coaching career in 1988 as a graduate assistant at Indiana before taking an assistant coaching job for one season (1989) at Army. He then moved on to Western Kentucky for a four-year stay, spending his last two seasons as defensive coordinator. Under his direction, the Hilltoppers' defense finished 18th nationally in final statistical rankings in 1993.

As a player, Mallory totaled 182 tackles and six interceptions at Michigan during his four-year career. The Wolverines played in four major bowl games — the Sugar, Holiday, Fiesta and Rose — and shared the 1986 Big Ten championship during his five-year stay. As a senior co-captain, he earned second team All-Big Ten honors and honorable mention Associated Press All-America recognition after finishing second on the team in tackles (71).

A 1988 graduate of Michigan with a degree in sports management and communications, Mallory, 35, and his wife, Lisa, have three daughters, Emily, Allison and Sarah.

Mike Mallory

Inside Linebackers

Mike Mallory joined the Maryland staff in the spring of 2000 following a four-season stint as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Northern Illinois.

A former All-American at Michigan, he is reunited with his brother, Doug, who is in his fourth season as the Terrapins' secondary coach. Both are sons of former Miami (Ohio), Colorado, Northern Illinois and Indiana head coach Bill Mallory.

Mallory, 37, began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under his father's tutelage at Indiana (1986-87) before becoming a full-time defensive aide at Kent State (1988-90). He then became the linebackers and special teams assistant at Eastern Illinois (1991-92) before joining the Rhode Island staff as defensive coordinator in 1993.

Joining the Northern Illinois staff for the 1996 season, the eldest of three coaching brothers followed his father's footsteps to NIU where Bill Mallory guided the Huskies to a 10-2 mark in 1983 and later was named to the school's athletic hall of fame.

At NIU, he helped guide the '99 Huskies to a 5-6 record – their best finish since 1992 – while posting the Mid-American Conference's third-best pass efficiency defense.

A linebacker in college, Mike played with his brother Doug on three bowl teams at Michigan – during the 1983, 1984 and 1985 seasons. Mike earned All-America honors as a senior and was a two-time team captain. A first team All-Big Ten selection as a junior and senior, he was a finalist for the 1985 Butkus Award and finished his career ranked third on Michigan's career tackle chart. He won the Bo Schembechler MVP award in 1984.

Mallory graduated from Michigan in 1985 with a bachelor's degree in sports administration. He did graduate work in sports management at Indiana in 1986-87.

He and his wife, Kim, have a daughter, Kathryn (3), and a son, William Michael (1).

Elliot Uzelac

Centers/ Guards

Elliot Uzelac, a former major college head coach who is considered one of the top offensive line technicians in the country, is in his third season coaching the offensive centers and guards.

Uzelac has helped oversee the development of the Terrapins' offensive line into one of the most productive in the ACC. In 1999, Maryland led the Atlantic Coast Conference and finished 12th nationally in rushing yards per game (231.4) while yielding an ACC-low 11 sacks. That followed a major improvement in 1998, when the Terps had the nation's sixth most improved rushing attack.

Elliot Uzelac and his wife Wendy.

A 33-year coaching veteran – 32 in the college ranks and one in the NFL – Uzelac came to College Park after serving as offensive coordinator/ offensive line coach at the University of Minnesota in 1997.

Prior to Minnesota, he worked the 1995 and '96 seasons as associate head coach and offensive coordinator at the University of Kentucky, where he oversaw a Wildcats' unit that committed just 16 turnovers in '95, fewest in school history. In addition, the Wildcats' 30 touchdowns in 1995 were the most since 1984 and the 24 rushing TD's were the most since 1974. The Wildcats' 1995 roster included tailback Moe Williams, who rushed for 1,600 yards, established three SEC records and set 15 school marks that season.

From 1993-94, he served as offensive coordinator at Colorado, directing a CU unit that led the Big Eight in total offense both seasons and set or tied 55 school records. Colorado's 1994 offense was led by Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam and Kordell Stewart. In 1994, Colorado posted an 11-1 record and ranked third in the country with 495.3 yards per game of total offense. In '93, Colorado finished with an 8-3-1 overall record and ranked 10th nationally in total offense (470.5 ypg).

A 1964 graduate of Western Michigan, Uzelac also has coached for the Cleveland Browns (1992), Ohio State (1991), Indiana (1990), Navy (head coach 1987-89, assistant coach 1971-72), Michigan (1982-86, 1973-74), Western Michigan (head coach 1975-81), and Bowling Green (1968-70, 1965). Among the coaches he has served under include Bo Schembechler, Bill McCartney, Don Nehlen and Bill Mallory.

During his seven seasons as head coach at Western Michigan, he guided his alma mater to more Mid-American Conference victories than any coach in school history to that point. He was named MAC Coach of the Year in 1976. Uzelac later served a three-year stint as head coach at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Uzelac earned a master's degree in physical education from Bowling Green in 1966. He and his wife, Wendy, have two children, Lisa and Nick, one granddaughter, Jordan, and one grandson, Elliot.

Tom Deahn

Director of Football Operations

Tom Deahn is in his second year on the Maryland football staff and his first as director of football operations. He served as assistant recruiting coordinator during the 1999 season. His administrative responsibilities include daily management of the football program, including operations, team travel and schedule coordination.

Deahn came to Maryland following a five-year stint at St. Norbert College in DePere, Wis., where he spent time as assistant head coach, recruiting coordinator, offensive coordinator and quarterbacks/wide receivers coach. He also served as travel coordinator and equipment manager for a 19-sport program. While at St. Norbert, he coached two offensive linemen to All-America honors and 15 players to all-conference honors.

During each of the team's last three seasons, Deahn's offenses at St. Norbert set school records for single-season all-purpose yards while ranking among national statistical leaders.

Prior to his arrival at St. Norbert, he spent three years at Catholic University in Washington, D.C., where his responsibilities included serving as recruiting coordinator and strength coordinator during his stay. Catholic's defenses ranked second in the country in 1993. Two of his players received All-America recognition.

Deahn played collegiately at Heidelberg College in Ohio, where he was a member of two nationally ranked teams.

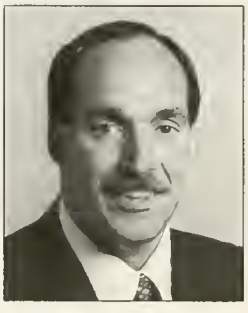
Deahn and his wife, Dawn, have a daughter, Amanda.

The Deahn family: Tam, Amanda and Dawn.

Dwight Galt

Head Strength and Conditioning Coach

Dwight Galt, a member of the Terps' strength staff since 1989, is in his seventh year as Maryland's head strength and conditioning coach. His responsibilities include managing the department's three training facilities and coordinating strength and conditioning programs for the Terps' 25 varsity sports, with special emphasis on football.



Galt, who earned his bachelor's degree in business management (1981) and his master's degree in exercise physiology (1989) from the University of Maryland, is certified by the International Sports Science Association. He is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the United States Powerlifting Federation.

During his time in College Park, he has worked with a number of teams which have advanced to national postseason play, including the 1984 ACC and Sun Bowl championship football team, the 1985 ACC and Cherry Bowl championship teams and the 1990 Independence Bowl team.

The 43-year-old Galt and his wife, Jan, have four children: Angie, Teri, Dwight IV and Tom.

The Galt family (clackwise fram lawer left): Dwight IV, Teri, Tam, Angie, Jan and Dwight.

Todd Hobin

Director of Video Services

Todd Hobin is in his ninth season as Maryland's director of video services. Hobin's video expertise allows him to service the Terps' football program from his state-of-the-art lab in the Gossett Team House.

Hobin and his staff videotape all of the Terps' football practices and games and then employ a sophisticated editing system to break down the footage for use by the coaches.

Prior to being named the Terps' director of video services, Hobin was on the coaching staff at Cornell for three years (1989-91). During his stint with the Big Red, he helped coach the running backs and served as the freshman team's offensive coordinator. In 1990, the Big Red won the Ivy League championship. Before joining the Cornell staff, he served on the staff at Ithaca College as an assistant defensive backs coach and defensive coordinator for the junior varsity. Ithaca captured the 1988 Division III national championship.

A native of Holland Patent, N.Y., Hobin graduated cum laude from Cortland State, where he was a three-year letterman at running back and punter. Hobin transferred to Cortland State from Hamilton College, where he spent one season as the team's starting free safety.

Hobin and his wife, Candice, have a son, Bryce.

The Habin family: Candice, Bryce and Todd.

Jaime Elizondo

Assistant Recruiting Coordinator

Jaime Elizondo, a 1997 graduate of the University of Maryland, was named assistant recruiting coordinator in June 2000. A physiology and neurobiology major, Elizondo was a three-year letterman on the Terrapin men's tennis team. He served as team co-captain in his final year.

Elizondo has been a football coach at the high school level, serving as defensive coordinator for the freshman team and defensive backs coach for the varsity at Georgetown Prep High School in Rockville, Md., in 1998 and '99.

Elizondo grew up in El Paso, Texas, where he was a defensive back/wide receiver at J.M. Hanks High School.

He has completed two years of law school at the Washington College of Law at American University, where he served as a Deans fellow within the law school and maintained a 3.3 grade-point average.

Brendan Daly

Graduate Assistant

Brendan Daly is in his first season as a graduate assistant coach with the Terrapins. Daly will work with the offensive coaching staff, concentrating his efforts on the tight end unit.

Daly came to the University of Maryland from Villanova University, where he spent one-and-a-half years coaching tight ends and assisting with the offensive line. He also coordinated scout team units, prepared scouting reports, and served as the program's on-campus recruiting coordinator.

Prior to his stint at Villanova, he spent the 1998 season as a graduate assistant coach at Drake University, helping the Bulldogs to a 7-3 record and Pioneer League championship in 1998.

In 1997 and '98, he was an assistant football coach and special education teacher at Ridgewood High School in New Port Richey, Fla.

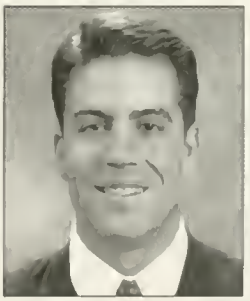
He is a 1997 graduate of Drake University with a bachelor of arts degree in history.

Chris Smith

Graouate Assistant

Christopher Smith is in his first season as a graduate assistant coach with the Terrapins and will work primarily with the Terps' secondary unit.

Smith was a four-year letterman at Colorado College. He was a three-year starter who played free safety, strong safety and cornerback in addition to returning punts. He was named his team's Defensive Player of the Year in 1997 and was honored as Most Improved Player in 1995. A team captain as a senior, he also was named a second team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American and was the recipient of an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.



Smith was an assistant coach in charge of outside linebackers and special teams at Colorado College in 1998. He also worked in the Colorado College chemistry department for one year. He is a 1998 graduate of Colorado College, earning a bachelors degree in chemistry and graduating cum laude.

2000 Season Preview

In three seasons under Ron Vanderlinden, the Maryland Terrapins have made dramatic strides toward returning the Terps' program back into the national spotlight. Those improvements were initially reflected in statistics, both offensively and defensively, and last season those strides emerged in the win column.

Hard luck hit the Terps after a 5-2 start in 1999, however. Despite the impressive start, Maryland's bowl hopes were dashed by a pair of last-minute defeats and a patchwork quarterback rotation which resulted after a knee injury to nine-game starter Calvin McCall. McCall, second nationally in total offense among freshmen, missed the season's final two games including a 34-30 season-ending setback to Virginia which saw the Cavaliers mount a winning score with 26 seconds remaining.

That heart-breaking loss ultimately denied the Terps a trip to the Aloha Bowl, but did not overshadow the significant improvements over the course of the season. Not to be forgotten, either, was one of the most dominating single-game rushing efforts in college football history.

Sophomore Calvin McCall started nine games at quarterback for the Terps as a redshirt freshman in 1999.

LaMont Jordan's 306-yard rushing performance against Virginia — the third-best running game in ACC history — was more than a footnote to a devastating loss. Instead, it cemented his status as one of the nation's premier running backs while serving as a precursor to his senior season and the Terps' drive to climb still higher in 2000.

Jordan returns as one of America's most formidable offensive weapons — chosen by College Football News, in fact, as the third-best offensive player in the country and listing prominently on Heisman Trophy watch lists in virtually every preseason publication. Beside him are 14 other returning starters including backfield mate and fullback Matt Kalapinski, three offensive linemen, a pair of all-star kickers and a complete linebacking corps that Lindy's Preseason Annual rated as the No. 8 unit in the country.

The climb continues for the Maryland Terrapins in 2000. The Terps received votes in national polls for seven consecutive weeks a year ago, and this season they hope for nothing short of cracking those polls and representing the Atlantic Coast Conference in a postseason bowl.

Quarterback

The Terps, who have opened 15 of their last 17 games with a freshman or redshirt freshman starting at quarterback, return their top two signal-callers from last season in sophomores McCall and Latrez Harrison, who combined for 11 starts in 1999. Added to the mix is junior college transfer Shaun Hill, a two-year starter at Hutchinson (Kan.) CC who was rated among the top JC quarterbacks in the country by SuperPrep.

The trio, who shared snaps during spring drills, head into fall camp in a closely contested battle, with McCall and Hill listed 1 and 1A and Harrison right behind.

The triggerman in Maryland's rejuvenated offensive attack in '99, McCall keyed the Terps' 51-spot jump in the NCAA total offense rankings last season. In nine starts, McCall passed for more than 1,200 yards, rushed for 256 and had the lowest interception ratio in the ACC (nearly 60 to 1). He was a strong contender for ACC Rookie of the Year honors before a knee injury (torn medial collateral) late in the ninth game wiped out the remainder of his season. McCall finished second to Virginia Tech's Michael Vick among freshman I-A quarterbacks in passing efficiency and total offense.

His absence early in spring drills meant that Harrison, one of the prizes in Maryland's 1999 recruiting class, shared the No. 1 position with newcomer Hill. Both performed admirably, but it was Hill's pinpoint passing command before and during the annual spring game that earned the transfer a shot at starting duties this fall.

Said Vanderlinden about his returning starter, "Calvin displayed a great deal of field presence as a redshirt freshman and did a nice job executing our offense. He displayed natural leadership ability and should only continue to improve every part of his game."

And on McCall's challengers, Vanderlinden added, "Shaun Hill picked up our offensive system very quickly this past spring. He displayed the ability to find the open receiver, and he throws very accurately. Latrez continued to develop as a quarterback this past spring. He possesses a very strong arm and will only continue to get better as he learns the offense."

In the Red-White game last April, Hill led all quarterbacks with 152 yards on 13 of 16 passing, including touchdown drives for both teams. His 47-yard aerial to Scooter Monroe was the longest pass of the evening. At Hutchinson, Hill accounted for 2,058 yards of total offense in 1999 and was rated the No. 5 JC quarterback in the country by SuperPrep.

Harrison saw spot duty as McCall's backup last season before getting starts in the final two games. He shared a majority of snaps during spring ball with Hill, and later McCall when he joined camp following his return from the hardwood as a walk-on member of the Terps' NCAA Tournament basketball team.

Also on the depth chart are blue-chip freshman Chris Kelley out of nearby Seneca Valley in Maryland, and juniors Gil Harris and Matt Langlie. With McCall, Hill and Harrison in the forefront after spring drills, Kelley can be expected to redshirt and begin grooming for future seasons.

Tailback

Heisman candidate LaMont Jordan spearheads a running game that last year led the ACC and ranked 12th nationally in rushing yards per game (238.1). Jordan, who led the nation in rushing yards during the second half of the 1999 campaign, sat out spring practice in order to concentrate on his academics. He enters the 2000 season as the NCAA's leading active career rusher, with 3,227 yards in 32 career games (100.8 per game average), and as the NCAA's second-leading returning rusher from 1999.

A second team All-American by a number of sources last season, Jordan finished fifth in the country in average rushing yards per game (148.4) in 1999. He enters his final college campaign among a noted few that blanket every preseason All-America team and watch lists for the Doak Walker Award and the coveted Heisman Trophy.

Included in his numbers from 1999 were seven 100-yard rushing efforts, including six of 150 yards or more and the school-record 306-yard outburst. In five games against teams advancing to bowl games, Jordan averaged a hefty 164 yards per game, including the best effort by a running back against Florida State (169) in nearly five seasons.

Maryland's career rushing record and 1,376 yards to shatter the ACC's all-time rushing standard.

Said Vanderlinden on the attributes of his Heisman candidate running back, "LaMont has the three qualities you look for in great back: speed to go the distance, agility to make defenders miss, and size and strength to finish a run."

Jordan's absence in spring ball, though, created more opportunities for Mukala Sikyala, Bruce Perry and Marc Riley as his primary backups.

Sikyala and Perry spent last season backing Jordan. The duo combined for 320 yards on 53 carries last season. Perry averaged 6.5 yards per tote, Sikyala averaged 5.4 yards per carry. Riley shifts back to tailback after serving as the team's No. 2 fullback a year ago.

Added Vanderlinden on the rest of his tailback stable, "Bruce has excellent speed, maneuverability and toughness for a running back of his size. Mukala combines speed, movement and leverage, and Marc is starting to develop into the big, physical running back that we hoped he would be. All three of these guys vary in their running styles and all will help us."

A newcomer to watch is junior Chris Downs, a transfer from Valley Forge Military Academy who is a former Philadelphia Daily News Inter-Academic Player of the Decade honoree.

Fullback

Senior Matt Kalapinski, one of the ACC's most underrated backs, is the other half of one of the country's most formidable rushing tandems. A tandem which, in fact, has helped the Terps earn a No. 7 backfield unit ranking by Lindy's Preseoson Annuol. Kalapinski himself was ranked the No. 3 fullback in the country by The Sporting News.

Rankings alone can't begin to reflect Kalapinski's value to the Terps' offense. Kalapinski's blocking was instrumental in the Terps' leading the ACC and ranking 12th nationally in rushing yards per game in 1999. And although his rushing attempts were minimal — Kalapinski rushed 34 times for 157 yards — he still averaged a hefty 4.6 yards per carry and was tackled behind the line of scrimmage on just one occasion. Over the past two seasons, Kalapinski has rushed for 527 yards, six touchdowns and a 4.8-yard average.

Said Vanderlinden of his hard-nosed fullback, "Pound for pound, Matt may be the toughest football player in our conference. He is a good blocker and a very good ball carrier when he gets his hands on the football. He is deceptive in his ability to make defenders miss him in open space."

Kalapinski totaled a season-high 64 yards on 13 carries vs. Virginia and finished second on the squad in touchdowns (4) in 1999. He rushed for a career-high 87 yards against the Cavs as a sophomore, and a week later rumbled for 80 at West Virginia.

Depth behind Kalapinski is provided by sophomore Chad Killian, who appeared in six games in 1999; redshirt freshmen Bernie Fiddler and Zac Ryder; and true freshman James Lynch of Washington, D.C.

Wide Receiver

The Terps return four of their top five wideouts from '99 and will compensate for their only graduation loss with the addition of Moises Cruz, who is returning to the squad after taking a one-season leave of absence.

Cruz, a 5-11, 172-pounder, totaled 44 receptions during the 1997 and '98 seasons, ranking either first or second on the team in receptions each year. He started 18 of the 21 games he saw action in during his freshman and sophomore campaigns.

He will add experience and depth to a veteran corps which features a pair of three-year lettermen in seniors Jason Hatala and Omar Cheeseboro and two-year lettermen Guilian Gary and Doug Patterson. Gary, who emerged as a bona fide receiving threat last season, topped the Terps in receptions (24) in 1999. Hatala averaged a team-high 22.7 yards per catch in 1999 while Cheeseboro caught nine passes for 111 yards.

Sophomore Scooter Monroe was one of three true freshmen to see action for the Terps last season; the 6-1, 189-pounder had a 76-yard touchdown reception vs. Western Carolina among his three catches. And redshirt freshman Jafar Williams exhibited last spring that his skills are worthy of playing time, also.

"The wide receiver position is the deepest it has been in my four years at Maryland," said Vanderlinden. "Jason Hatala, Moises Cruz, Omar Cheeseboro and Guilian Gary have all demonstrated the ability to make big plays in the passing game. Each has the quickness and speed to get deep, and each is very competitive. Scooter and Jafar both have shown the ability to be quality ACC receivers, too, and only need to continue to develop their skills."

The Terps strengthened this unit in the off-season, signing Maurice Shanks, Rob Abiamiri and Steve Suter to letters of intent in February. All are highly thought of receivers who figure to make an impact in the near future.

Tight End

Maryland will look to one of four contending athletes to replace 22-game starter John Waerig, one of the most feared blockers in the ACC the past two seasons who completed his eligibility in 1999 and now plies his trade with the NFL Jacksonville Jaguars.

Jeff Dugan spent the 1999 season as a redshirt while acclimating himself to the Terrapin offense, and the Maryland coaches are high on his progress. Dugan was rated the top tight end prospect in the state of Pennsylvania when he signed with the Terps in February of 1999.

Matt Murphy has been moved back to his normal tight end position after spending part of last season as a backup on the defensive line. The 6-5, 250-pound two-year letterman, who shared time as a backup at the position in 1998, has all the physical tools necessary to be quality tight end. He sat out spring drills, however, after undergoing surgery on both shoulders during the off-season.

Said Vanderlinden, "Jeff challenged Mike Hull for the starting tight end position this spring. He is a tall, physical football player who has the potential to develop into an outstanding player, both as a blocker and as a receiver. Matt has the speed, size and athleticism to be a quality tight end in the ACC. He should only get better as he continues to get his strength back."

Eric James, whose three touchdown receptions in 1999 were the most by a Terrapin tight end since 1986, also missed spring drills, but is expected to challenge Dugan and Murphy for the starting role, pending his return in the fall. Also vying for time at the position is senior letterman Mike Hull, who spent the 1997 season as the Terps' regular tight end and split time with Dugan during spring 2000.

"Eric has significant playing time under his belt as the second tight end," added Vanderlinden. "He should be ready to assume the starting position and be the quality receiver and blocker that our offense needs."

Signing with the Terps this past February was true freshman Ryan Flynn of Youngstown, Ohio.

Maryland returns faur af its tap five wideauts fram 1999, including juniar Guilian Gary.

Offensive Line

Three starters return from an offensive front that yielded an ACC-low 11 quarterback sacks in addition to paving the way for the ACC's top-rated rushing unit (234.1 ypg) last season: center Melvin Fowler, who has started all 22 games the past two years; tackle Matt Crawford, a second team Freshman All-American by The Sporting News; and left guard Todd Wike, a 10-game starter in '99.

The Terps must find replacements for left tackle Brad Messina (32 career starts) and right guard Jamie Wu (22 career starts), who capped their careers with second team All-ACC recognition last season and both of whom found their way to NFL jobs last summer.

Maryland's rise up the ACC and NCAA statistical rankings in the past two years can be attributed to the consistent effort provided by the offensive front, which has been instrumental in the Terps going from ninth to first in ACC team rushing since 1997 and from 105th to 54th in NCAA total offense rankings from 1998 to '99.

With the exception of Fowler, a redshirt junior, and senior tackle Tim Howard, this is a group dominated by underclassmen. Ten of the 12 offensive linemen on the roster are either sophomores or younger.

Howard, who is in his fifth season in the program, is slotted in the No. 1 position at left tackle and will be challenged by redshirt freshman Eric Dumas. At right guard, sophomore Bob Krantz will be pushed by junior letterman Chris Snader and redshirt freshman Lamar Bryant in a battle to see who replaces the graduated Jamie Wu. Snader returns after missing spring drills in order to concentrate on academics.

The center position is in better shape with the return of backup Sam Marvis, a sophomore who missed all of last season after undergoing shoulder surgery. Redshirt freshman Brandon Miller is No. 3 on the depth chart going into spring camp.

"Melvin is an All-ACC honors candidate and possesses outstanding quickness and technique," said Vanderlinden. "Matt Crawford and Todd Wike also return after being full-time starters last season. Matt is a very physical and prideful player who should continue to get better. Todd has added size and strength, he is very athletic and pulls very well."

The coach added, "Howard had an improved spring and brings a great deal of leadership and experience, having played both guard and tackle during his time at Maryland. He enters our fall camp as our starter at left tackle."

Newcomers include tackles Lou Lombardo of Baltimore and C.J. Brooks of Rex, Ga.; guards Reggie Kemp of Hyattsville and James Evans of Teaneck, N.J., and center Kyle Schmitt of Latrobe, Pa.

Defensive Line

Maryland's up-front personnel will undergo a near-complete makeover, as three regulars who combined for 77 career starts have seen their eligibility expire. Gone are All-ACC first-teamer Delbert Cowsette and ends Peter Timmins and Erwyn Lyght. The only holdovers are senior Kris Jenkins and junior Charles Hill, who combined for 11 starts at an inside position in '99. Jenkins and Hill are the lone upperclass letterwinners in a unit that features two sophomores, three redshirt freshmen and three true freshmen in an 11-man group.

Jenkins, a 6-5, 292-pounder who has started eight times each of the past two seasons, has totaled 92 career tackles in 30 career games, including a career-best 10 stops vs. Georgia Tech in 1999. He heads into spring camp No. 1 on the depth chart at a defensive tackle spot and is expected to be backed by redshirt freshman Scott Smith and junior college transfer Chris Earhart from Montgomery College. Smith was moved from the offensive line, where he contributed on the scout team in 1999.

Said Vanderlinden, "Kris Jenkins will anchor our defensive line. He has outstanding size and quickness. I expect Kris to be a dominant force up front for us this fall."

The 6-2, 283-pound Hill, who has earned six starts in the past two seasons, is listed No. 1 on the depth chart at nose tackle. He is backed by redshirt freshmen Landon Jones and Tosin Abari and true freshman Cole Boykin.

"Charles Hill has enough experience under his belt, having played as both a freshman and sophomore, to step up and become a quality defensive lineman in the ACC this fall," added Vanderlinden.

At the defensive end spot vacated by Timmins, sophomore William Shime and sophomore Durrand Roundtree are expected to battle for the starting spot. Shime saw limited action in 1999.

Linebackers

The Terps, who started an all-sophomore linebacker crew in every game in '99, are well-stocked at the inside and outside positions. In addition to four prominent juniors — Aaron Thompson, Marlon Moore, Kevin Bishop and E.J Henderson — Maryland also has tested reserves in Monte Graves and Ryan Swift as well as four redshirt freshmen in Leroy Ambush, Nick Farver, Leon Joe and Mike Whaley.

"The linebacker position should be the strength of the defense," said Vanderlinden of his nearly all-junior linebacking corps.

He continued, "All three starters return. Aaron Thompson returns as one of the league's leaders in tackles for losses. He has outstanding speed and hitting potential. Kevin Bishop returns after knee surgery and he, too, has outstanding speed and a knack for getting to the ball. Marlon Moore also possesses outstanding speed and toughness and helped make a very quick impact to our team last season."

Moore wasted no time stepping in to replace Kendall Ogle, who made the Cleveland Browns roster after finishing second in the ACC in tackles in '98. Moore paced all Terrapin defenders and finished second in the Atlantic Coast Conference in average tackles per game (11.8) in '99, registering a career-best 16 stops vs. Clemson. He also had a pair of 15-tackle games in addition to returning an interception for a touchdown in a win over North Carolina.

Maryland's all-star linebacking crew is headed by Aaran Thampsan (40), who has registered 26 TFL's in just two seasons. Marlan Maore (35) ranked No. 2 in the ACC in average tackles per game last season, tapping the Terps with 130 total stops.

His inside linebacker mate, Kevin Bishop, was on pace for a 100-tackle season before he was shelved with a torn anterior cruciate ligament vs. NC State in the season's ninth game. Bishop, a transfer from South Florida, had a season-high 20 tackles vs. Clemson among his 84 stops. Bishop underwent successful surgery in December and is expected to return in August.

Thompson has been a fixture at outside linebacker for the past two years, starting all 22 games in '98 and '99. The Baltimore native is chasing Maryland's career record for tackles for losses — he has 26 in 22 games — and is on pace to finish among Maryland's all-time tackle leaders. With 111 tackles last season, Thompson now has 198 in his career, which puts him right on pace for a top-five Maryland ranking before his career is over. He will enter fall camp backed by redshirt freshman Leroy Ambush and true freshman Kenneth Jerry.

At the rush linebacker position, redshirt freshman Mike Whaley moved into the No. 1 spot entering fall drills with an impressive spring camp. He is backed by two-year letterman Ryan Swift, who has seen most of his action on special teams, and true freshmen Jon Condo and Kevin Eli.

Vanderlinden added, "I feel as if we have the best starting trio of linebackers in the ACC and I'm also encouraged by our depth at that position. I expect Leroy Ambush, Leon Joe, Montè Graves and Reggie Lewis to all contribute at the linebacker positions and on special teams."

Secondary

Six lettermen return to a secondary unit that will be minus the services of 1999 All-American Lewis Sanders, a cornerback/kick returner who declared for the NFL draft after sharing the national lead in individual takeaways (six interceptions, three fumble recoveries) last fall.

Despite Sanders' decision, it is still a veteran unit for the Terps, who list one senior and four juniors among their top eight defensive backs. Shawn Forte, the lone senior, anchors the unit from his free safety position, where he ranked among the ACC leaders in interceptions (4) last season. He will be backed by quarterback-turned-safety Ronnie Jones, a versatile talent who figures to play a more prominent role in Maryland's defense after re-acclimating himself to the opposite side of the ball a year ago.

At strong safety are two-year letterman Rod Littles, who ranked tied for third on the squad in total tackles (84) while starting nine games in '99, and junior Tony Jackson, last year's opening-game starter who is back after being granted a medical hardship (broken ankle).

"We should be strong at the safety position," reiterated Vanderlinden. "We have four players returning with extensive game experience. Forte has the ability to earn All-ACC honors with the speed, size and athleticism to cover a lot of field in the passing game. He also is very physical against the run, as is Rod Littles. Rod, too, has had significant playing time already and has improved greatly in his pass defense.

"Randall Jones, for the first time, enters a season with a spring and preseason as a defensive back. Randall has outstanding ability and just has to play to improve. Tony Jackson returns after missing most of the 1999 season. He started as a true freshman and has tremendous instincts in the passing game."

The corner positions will feature a veteran in junior Tony Okanlawon, who started the final three games and four overall last season, and redshirt freshman Curome Cox, who is expected to be an impact newcomer in 2000. It is at the corner posts where the Terps may be impacted most greatly by incoming freshmen.

Said Vanderlinden, "At the corner position, I expect freshmen to emerge into the two-deep. Help could come from high-profile recruits Rovel Hamilton, Dennard Wilson or Ray Custis."

Okanlawon, though, is an experienced player who has played in 20 games over the past two seasons, recording a career-high 12 total tackles late in the campaign vs. NC State in '99. He is considered a bona fide all-league candidate. Cox is a local product who played on the scout team last year after signing with the Terps out of Arlington, Va. Another redshirt freshman, Andrew Smith, Jr., is expected to compete for immediate playing time.

"Tony had an outstanding spring and has displayed the ability to be one of the conference's best corners. Curome emerged from spring drills as a starter at the other corner position and has the size, strength and speed to be a good ACC corner. He just needs to play and gain experience. He should get better with each game."

Other true freshmen include Ike Roberts and Curtis Williams.

Special Teams

Brian Kopka, who came within one field goal of tying a Maryland single-season record (17) in 1999, returns for his senior campaign as a legitimate candidate for the Lou Groza Award, given annually to the nation's top kicker. Kopka, an honorable mention All-American by Footboll News, is 34 of 49 lifetime on field goal attempts. He was also an effective weapon on kickoffs as a junior, as 57 percent (35 of 61) of his kickoffs resulted in touchbacks. He enters his final collegiate campaign in the No. 5 spot on Maryland's career scoring list (168 points).

Said Vanderlinden, "I look for Brian to have an outstanding season. He is extremely dedicated and has the experience of being a three-year starter under his belt."

Sophomore Brooks Barnard returns as the incumbent punter after taking over the No. 1 duties in the season's fourth game. Barnard was a major surprise for the Terps who ended up with a 42.1-yard average and third team Freshman All-American honors from The Sporting News. The Terps rose 41 spots in NCAA net punting statistics after Barnard took over. He had 11 punts at least 50 yards in length.

Both kickers ranked among national leaders last year — Kopka was 19th in field goals and 44th in scoring, Barnard was 34th in punting average.

Overall, special teams performance should be a strength in 2000, with return units also showing vast improvement and quality results in the past two seasons. Junior Guilian Gary heads a cast of quality return artists. He ranked among national punt return leaders in 1999 and is on pace to challenge Maryland team marks for career return yardage.

Another notable in providing special teams continuity over the past three seasons is long-snapper Scott Rudolph. Rudolph has started every game during the Vanderlinden era and begins his final season snapping on punts, field goals and PATs.

Lindy's Preseoson Annuol called the Terps' kicking game the best in the ACC. College Footboll News echoed the same ranking for Maryland's special teams.

Jordan Unanimous Preseason All-American

Heading into a senior campaign in which he could become the leading rusher in Atlantic Coast Conference history and challenge the top ten college running backs of all-time, Maryland tailback LaMont Jordan (Forestville, Md.) has been named a preseason first team All-American by eight major publications released through June.

In an informal survey including eight national preview magazines (Athlon, Blue Ribbon, College Football News, Football News, Lindy's, Playboy, Street & Smith's and The Sporting News), Jordan joined Michigan offensive lineman Steve Hutchinson and Wisconsin defensive back Jamar Fletcher as the only unanimous first team selections.

Other consistent notables from among all eight lists were TCU running back Ladainian Tomlinson and Florida defensive lineman Alex Brown, both of whom were chosen to first, second or third teams in all eight publications. Tomlinson, a primary contender with Jordan for the coveted Doak Walker national running back award, was a first-teamer by six of eight publications and second team on two others. Brown was a second team selection only by Athlan.

Linebackers Keith Adams of Clemson and Jamie Winborn of Vanderbilt both were first team selections on all seven All-America teams to which they were chosen.

2000 Bowl Championship Series

Starting in 1999, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) determined the Division I-A national champion in football. Last year, Florida State defeated Virginia Tech in the Sugar Bowl to claim the national title. Two years ago, Tennessee was crowned national champ after beating the Seminoles in the Fiesta Bowl.

The BCS Series consists of the Rose, Sugar, Orange and Fiesta bowls. The conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and Southeastern conferences.

The Bowl Championship Series differs from the original Bowl Alliance in that it guarantees a matchup between college football's top two teams in a true national championship game on a yearly basis.

ABC-TV has the broadcast rights to each of the four bowl games during the four-year contract.

ACC's Swofford Named Coordinator of BCS

Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner John Swofford assumed the duties of Coordinator of the Bowl Championship Series for the 2000 college football season. The BCS standings will be compiled and released during the 2000 season through the offices of the National Football Foundation, headquartered in Morristown, N.J. The first installment of the BCS standings will be released on Oct. 23 and will be calculated each Monday until the final BCS standings are completed on Sunday, Dec. 3.

The Atlantic Coast Conference

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor. However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 48th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

John Swofford, ACC Commissioner

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 79 national championships, including 39 in men's competition and 40 in women's. In addition, 119 men and 29 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981 while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1994 and 1999.

The nine schools that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 360 first or second team gridiron All-Americas and 52 first-team academic All-Americas. ACC teams have had 1,464 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 105 first round selections. A year ago an all-time high 194 players from the nine current ACC schools played in the NFL during the regular season or playoffs.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the nine current league teams are a combined 83-73-5 (.531) in post-season play, including a 26-22-1 mark since 1987. Since 1990, the ACC is one of only four conferences to have each of its schools play in a bowl game.

Georgia Tech and Florida State rank among the nation's winningest bowl teams. Among teams with 20-or-more bowl appearances, the Yellow Jackets are No. 1 with a 19-9 (.679) postseason record while the Seminoles are third at 17-9-2 (.630).

In the decade of the 1990s, ACC teams posted the nation's second best non-conference record. Including both postseason and regular season games, ACC teams were 223-117-4 (.654) versus non-league foes since 1990.

This past year the ACC had six consensus All-Americans and over the past three years the league has produced more consensus All-Americans (17) than any other conference. Since 1997, the ACC has had more first round draft picks (23) in the annual NFL draft than any other conference except the 12-team Southeastern Conference.

1999-2000 in Review

The 1999-2000 academic year concluded with the league pocketing four more national team titles and five individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 36 national team titles in the last ten years.

The ACC's 1999-2000 national champions were Maryland in field hockey and women's lacrosse, North Carolina in women's soccer and Florida State in football. Overall, ACC teams posted a 62-46 (.574) mark in NCAA Tournament play.

The ACC placed at least one team in the Top 10 nationally in 19 of the 25 sports sponsored by the league. Other records of note during the 1999-2000 season include 90 teams competing at NCAA Championships, five bowl teams and 34 Top 10 showings.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954 at NC State. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University. Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

1999 Review Notebook

Terps Conclude Best Year Since '95

The Ron Vanderlinden Era took hold at the University of Maryland in 1999 and following the Terrapins' best football season in four years, Maryland youth and honors combine to reflect an even brighter future for the third-year coach.

Maryland missed a winning season and postseason bowl qualification by just one game in 1999 after starting strong and earning votes in national polls for seven consecutive weeks — its first since 1995. The Terps, 5-6 overall and 2-6 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, suffered heart-breaking losses late in the season which prevented Maryland's first bowl bid since 1990.

A season-ending loss to Virginia typified the Terps' 1999 campaign which, in the end, produced seven all-conference players. Three first-team selections were the most by a Maryland team since 1986. Junior tailback LaMont Jordan (Forestville, Md.) joined fellow junior Lewis Sanders (Staten Island, N.Y.) on postseason All-America squads as Maryland continued to show improvement in its rushing offense and overall defense. Senior nose tackle Delbert Cowsette (Cleveland, Ohio) was the Terps' third first-team All-ACC selection.

Jordan returns to the Terrapin lineup in 2000 to highlight 13 returning starters on offense and defense, underscoring Maryland's stance as one of the nation's youngest teams the last two seasons.

Against Virginia in the season finale at Byrd Stadium, Jordan was a one-man wrecking crew though his efforts weren't enough to thwart a last-minute, game-winning drive as the Cavaliers escaped with the win, 34-30, with just 26 seconds on the clock.

Trailing 17-0 in the first quarter, Maryland stormed back to knot the score 17-17 at the intermission, and Jordan highlighted a record day with a 90-yard touchdown run to stake Maryland to a 24-17 lead. Tied again at 27, Brian Kopka (Hollywood, Fla.) kicked his third field goal to post Maryland to a 30-27 lead with 5:18 to play.

The Terrapins rode the legs and heart of Jordan throughout its last-gasp effort for a winning season. Paired against Virginia's Thomas Jones, the NCAA's rushing leader entering the game, Jordan easily won the dual of nationally-renowned running backs. His school-record 306 yards marked the third-best single-game effort in ACC history and the league's best in six years.

Rankings

Two Terp opponents were ranked in the final regular season college football polls: Florida State (#1 AP, #1 ESPN/USA Today) and Georgia Tech (#17, #15).

After a 33-0 win over West Virginia, Maryland received votes for seven straight weeks in the USA Today/ESPN coaches poll, and five of the final 10 weeks in the voting by AP. It marked the first time that Maryland received votes in national polls since 1995.

1 and 2

The 1999 Terrapins were one game shy of bowl qualification and their first winning season since 1995. Maryland showed a two-game improvement over their 1998 season in which it finished 3-8.

Top 10 Scoring Average

Maryland's scoring average was its 10th-best in school history.

Maryland's 30 points in the season-finale against Virginia raised its season average to match a 292-point total in 1992. It was the Terps' best scoring season in seven years.

Maryland's offensive line was anchored by center Melvin Fowler, Jr. (67).

30s, 40s, 50s

— Maryland scored 30 points on six different occasions in 1999.

— The Terps' 31 points at Georgia Tech was Maryland's best against a ranked opponent since falling to North Carolina, 59-42, in 1993.

— The 42 points against UNC in 1993 used ta be the most points the Terps had ever scored against the Tar Heels. Now that mark belongs to the 1999 team with 45 points.

— The Terps scored more points than any previous Maryland team at Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd Stadium.

— In a losing effort against Clemson, Maryland's 30 points were the most scored against the Tigers in seven seasons, and the second-highest figure since 1985.

A Game of Give and Take

Maryland finished 11th nationally in turnover margin, after ranking among top five leaders most of the season.

— Against UNC, Maryland netted seven takeaways, six in the first half. Its only giveaway was a second-unit fumble late in the final period with the score already 45-7.

— Against Clemson, Maryland was turnoverless for the third time.

— The Terps surpassed their 1998 takeaway total (21), recording 15 interceptions and 13 fumble recoveries. The Terps' 28 takeaways were the second-highest figure of the '90s (29 in 1996).

Feast (5) or Famine (6)

Quite simply, when the Terps won in 1999, defensive statistics were outstanding — shutouts, near-shutouts and less than 300 yards total offense in every game.

However, when the Terps lost, the defense allowed big numbers — more than 40 points three times and at least 30 five times — and more than 385 yards total offense in all six games.

In the Five Victories...

In Maryland's five victories in 1999, the Terps posted some impressive defensive numbers:

— Allowed an average of just 6.2 points and 247 yards per game;

— Held the opposition scoreless in 15 of 20 quarters;

— Yielded just seven fourth-quarter points;

— Recorded a turnover margin of +13.

Sack Reduction Startling

In 1997, the Terps yielded a whopping 56 sacks as the offensive line was being converted from a run-and-shoot blocking unit to one of a more conventional offensive scheme. In 1998, that figure was nearly cut in half, with Maryland allowing 30 sacks in 11 games.

1999 Review Notebook

In 1999, no ACC team allowed fewer sacks than Maryland, which yielded an average of just one per game (11 total) and averaged just one sack per 22.8 pass attempts.

Still Young Terrapins

Perhaps the youngest team in the country in 1998, the Terps were still undoubtedly worthy of the label, "young," in 1999.

— Based on the 46-man offensive and defensive two-deep in the season-finale against Virginia, the Terps were still a very young team. The two-deep featured 27 underclassmen (true freshmen, redshirt freshmen, sophomores) — 14 on defense and 13 on offense.

— Three true freshmen saw regular playing time in 1999: wide receiver/kickoff returner Scooter Monroe (Abington, Md.) saw increasing action though was not formally listed on the two-deep. QB Latrez Harrison (Atlanta, Ga.) saw limited action as the No. 2 and 3 signal-caller most of the season, and earned his first starting assignment at Florida State. TB Bruce Perry (Philadelphia, Pa.) saw increased playing time as the second or third tailback in the Terps' rotation — and averaged 6.5 yards on 30 carries.

— Eleven players — seven on offense, four on defense — made their major college starting debuts in 1999: ILB Kevin Bishop (St. Petersburg, Fla.), CB Renard Cox (Richmond, Va.), OT Matt Crawford (Moravia, N.Y.), WR Guilian Gary (Horseheads, N.Y.), QB Latrez Harrison, ILB E.J. Henderson, QB Calvin McCall (Miami, Fla.), ILB Marlon Moore (Brandywine, Md.), TB Mukala Sikyala, Jr. (Lanham, Md.), OG Chris Snader (Bishopville, Md.) and OG Todd Wike (Lebanon, Pa.).

— Sophomore Randall Jones (Frederick, Md.) made his first defensive start against North Carolina after switching positions from quarterback to safety one week into the season. He later played quarterback in the Virginia game, his only appearance behind center all season.

— Quarterback Latrez Harrison not only made his first two starts against FSU and Virginia, he became Maryland's third true or redshirt freshman to start at QB in the last two seasons.

— And while Harrison's replacement, fifth-year senior Trey Evans (Austin, Texas), was not a first-year player, he had thrown only one pass before the season and just four before his insertion into the Florida State game.

LoMont Jordan led the notion in rushing for the finol six gomes of 1999.

The Joroan Watch

Junior tailback LaMont Jordan capped his finest season with his finest game, and set up a senior season as arguably the finest back in the country. Against Virginia, Jordan set the school record for single-game rushing yards (306) while eclipsing season marks for rushing yards (1,632), overall touchdowns (17) and rushing touchdowns (16). He capped the 1999 campaign with the most yards ever by an ACC junior and became the fourth junior in ACC history to eclipse 3,000 career yards.

With his 306 yards against Virginia and 227 against Duke, he owned the top two rushing marks in the ACC in 1999. He eclipsed the century mark seven times in 1999, raising his career total to 14. Each of his 100-yard games in 1999, in fact, were 147 yards or better.

Jordan Leaos the Nation

LaMont Jordan led the country in rushing over the 1999 season's final six games. He rushed for 1,101 yards and a 183.5-yard average.

Nationally-Speaking Overall

LaMont Jordan finished fifth among NCAA leaders in rushing (148.36) overall. He was ninth in all-purpose yards (167.27) and tied for 11th in scoring (9.27).

One of Four in the Nation

Maryland quarterback Calvin McCall was one of just four freshmen Division I quarterbacks to start his team's opening game. He and Virginia Tech's Michael Vick were the two most prominent freshman starters through the 1999 college football season.

Among NCAA Freshmen

McCall was second among all NCAA Division I-A freshmen in total offense and passing efficiency.

Freshman Pass Marks Tumble

McCall safely tucked away every freshman passing record in Maryland history.

Previous freshman marks were set in 1998 by teammate Randall Jones, who was switched to the defensive secondary in 1999.

1999 Review Notebook

Calvin McCall started nine games as a redshirt freshman in 1999.

Third Frosh QB in Two Years

Latrez Harrison made his first college start at Florida State and became the third true or redshirt freshman to start at QB for the Terps in the last two seasons. The FSU game marked the 15th time in the last 17 games that Maryland has started a true or redshirt freshman as its QB.

Randall Jones started four games as a true freshman in 1998 and redshirt freshman Calvin McCall was a nine-game starter in 1999.

Playmaker Sanders

Cornerback Lewis Sanders leaped into the limelight as one of Maryland's top playmakers in 1999. He declared for the NFL draft after his junior season.

— In 11 games, Sanders had six interceptions, 14 pass break-ups and three fumble recoveries.

— Sanders shared the nation's lead in takeaways (interceptions plus fumble recoveries) with California's Deltha O'Neal, Tennessee's Deon Grant and Alabama-Birmingham's Rodregis Brooks, each of whom had nine interceptions and no recoveries.

— He tied for the ACC lead in interceptions (0.6) and was third in kickoff returns (26.8). He tied for 10th among NCAA I-A leaders in interceptions and finished 12th in kickoff returns.

— Midway through the 1999 campaign, he was listed among top five candidates for the Jim Thorpe Award, according to ESPN.com. He was similarly listed among the nation's top five defensive backs by College Football News.

— Sanders picked off Georgia Tech QB Joe Hamilton in the first quarter on Sept. 30 to end the Heisman Trophy candidate's streak of 94 straight passes without an interception. It was Hamilton's first interception of the season.

— Sanders is tied for seventh among Maryland's career interception leaders, with 10.

— His 28-yard fumble return for touchdown against West Virginia was his second defensive or special teams touchdown in two games.

— He returned a kickoff 98 yards for a score against Western Carolina, becoming just the fourth player in Maryland history to return two kickoffs for touchdowns (he had a 90-yard kickoff return for TD vs. North Carolina in 1997) in a career.

— He is sixth among Terrapin career KOR leaders. His 24.6-yard career average (39 for 946) is currently fifth in Maryland history.

Return Artists

Maryland finished second in the nation in kickoff returns after leading the category most of the season. Maryland recorded a 26.4-yard average.

Sanders, senior Jermaine Arrington (Landover, Md.), sophomore Guilian Gary and freshman Scooter Monroe have set the nation's standard for kickoff returns.

Sanders owned long returns of 98 (TD), 50, 32, 29, 27 and 26 (twice) yards.

Gary contributed an 84-yard return to set up a score at Georgia Tech. Among his three returns, Monroe had gains of 27 and 19 yards. Arrington had returns of 23 and 77 yards.

Cornering the Pass

Led by Lewis Sanders (6), Maryland posted 15 interceptions in 1999. It was the most picks by a Terp defensive unit since 16 in 1996, and the second-best figure of the '90s.

Net Punting Increase

Since Brooks Barnard (Arnold, Md.) took over as Maryland's full-time punter against Wake Forest, the Terps rose 41 positions in NCAA net punting statistics. Maryland was No. 103 following the Georgia Tech game and ended the season 62nd.

Booming Brooks

Brooks Barnard was Maryland's walk-on punter whose inauspicious beginning at Wake Forest turned into a banner day with booming kicks of 54, 45, 49, 47 and 62 yards. His first four kicks the following game against Clemson were 43, 41, 48 and 50 yards. He finished with 11 kicks of 50 yards or better.

Overall, Barnard averaged 42.1 yards on 42 punts and ranked 34th nationally. It was Maryland's best punting average since 1993. Since an eight-yarder on his second punt at Wake, Barnard boasted 39 punts for 1,687 yards, a 43.25-yard average and 10 downed inside the 20-yard line.

Specialty Teams

Maryland's kick cover and punt cover units ranked in the middle of the ACC, according to final statistics. Terp opponents averaged 20.8 yards per kickoff return (fifth in the ACC) and 7.5 yards per punt return (fourth in the ACC).

The Terps were boosted by the performance of placekicker Brian Kopka, who had 35 of 61 (57%) of his kickoffs result in touchbacks, and punter Brooks Barnard, who had 10 punts downed inside the 20.

Consecutive Starts

Terp veterans who ended the 1999 season with active starting streaks: DT Delbert Cowsette-33, OLB Aaron Thompson-22, TE John Waerig-22, C Melvin Fowler-22, OG Jamie Wu-22, OT Brad Messina 14, OT Matt Crawford 11, DE Erwyn Lyght 11, ILB Marlon Moore 11, CB Lewis Sanders 11, TB LaMont Jordan 10, OG Todd Wike 10.

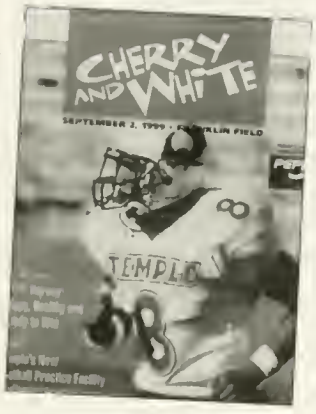
Game 1

Maryland 6
Temple 0

September 2, 1999
Franklin Field • Philadelphia, Pa.



PHILADELPHIA - At Franklin Field, Brian Kopka kicked two short field goals in the first half and Bryn Boggs made a game-saving block of a last-second pass as Maryland beat Temple 6-0 in a Thursday night season opener for both teams.

Kopka's 27-yard field goal with 7:12 left in the first quarter came after Maryland stalled at the Temple 10. He added a 26-yarder with 3:08 left in the half. Maryland ran eight plays inside the Temple 10 in the first half, while Temple did not cross midfield until 11:08 remained in the game.

Following Kopka's pair of first half field goals, Maryland had three other kicking chances go awry. The first was a fake field goal that ended with an incomplete pass and the other two were 46-yard attempts that sailed wide.

Temple threatened in the last minute behind the passing of Devin Scott. He threw a 33-yard completion to Krishan Lewis and his 11-yarder to Greg Muckerson moved the Owls to the Maryland 16.

Two plays later, Scott's apparent TD pass to Marcus Godfrey was called back because the quarterback had crossed the line of scrimmage before releasing the ball.

Scott completed a pass that Mac DeVito carried to the 3. DeVito fumbled, but teammate Jamal Wallace recovered. The threat, and the game, ended when Boggs knocked down Scott's pass as time expired.

It was Maryland's first shutout in three seasons and its first on the road since a 14-0 victory at Wake Forest in 1987. Temple was held scoreless for the first time since a 38-0 loss to Virginia Tech in 1996.

Scott was 32 of 49 for 228 yards. Maryland's Calvin McCall was 10 of 23 passing for 100 yards, and added 79 rushing in his college debut as the Terrapins' quarterback. The redshirt freshman had the game's longest play from scrimmage with a 55-yard run in the second quarter.

Maryland's 6-0 win was its first shutout in three seasons and its first on the road since a 14-0 victory at Wake Forest in 1987.

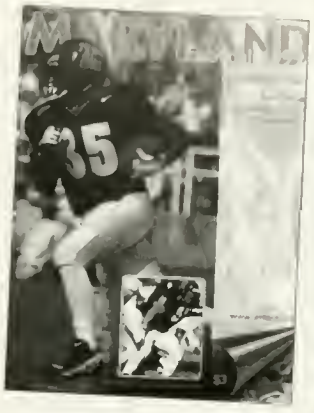
Game 2

Maryland 51
Western Carolina 10

September 11, 1999
Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.



COLLEGE PARK, Md. - LaMont Jordan ran for a career-high 158 yards and three touchdowns, and Lewis Sanders returned a kickoff 98 yards as Maryland cruised past Western Carolina 51-10.

Jordan, who left after three quarters, became the first Terrapin since Rick Badanjek in 1984 to score three touchdowns in a game. He scored from 4, 2 and 27 yards out.

Maryland (2-0) led 23-10 before pulling away with three touchdowns in the third period. Redshirt freshman Calvin McCall was 10-for-17 for 152 yards, including a 76-yard TD pass to Jason Hatala. He also ran for 58 yards and a score.

Brad Hoover gained 124 yards on 32 carries for Western Carolina (1-1), which fell to 0-21 against Atlantic Coast Conference schools.

Western Carolina trailed 16-3 late in the first half when Hatala caught a short sideline pass behind Lamont Ransby, who froze while Hatala sprinted away to complete the longest pass play for the Terrapins since he caught a 76-yarder in October 1997.

The Catamounts closed to 23-10 on a 23-yard screen pass from Shawn Snyder to Hoover, but Sanders took the ensuing kickoff 98 yards to stake the Terrapins to a 30-10 advantage. Sanders is only the fourth player in school history to return more than one kickoff for a touchdown; he also did it in 1997.

Maryland outgained Western Carolina 307-91 in the first half and also benefited from two turnovers. Overall, Maryland amassed 582 yards in total offense compared to just 219 for WCU.

LaMont Jordan became the first Terrapin since Rick Badanjek in 1984 to score three touchdowns in a game.

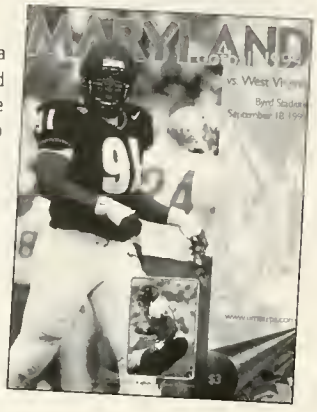
Game 3

Maryland 33
West Virginia 0

September 18, 1999
Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.



COLLEGE PARK, Md. - LaMont Jordan ran for a career-high 164 yards and unbeaten Maryland shut down West Virginia's high-powered offense in a 33-0 rout that enabled the Terrapins to match their victory total of 1998.

Calvin McCall threw two touchdown passes for Maryland (3-0), which last opened a season with three straight wins in 1995. It was the Terrapins' most significant victory under coach Ron Vanderlinden, who watched Maryland shut out a Big East opponent for the second time in three games.

West Virginia's Marc Bulger threw four interceptions and was held without a touchdown pass for the first time in 17 games dating to 1997. It was the Mountaineers' worst shutout loss since a 33-0 drubbing by Penn State in 1976 and their most lopsided defeat since a 41-7 loss to Florida in the 1993 Sugar Bowl.

Bulger, who was lifted midway through the fourth quarter, went 17-for-30 for 152 yards. The four interceptions tied a career high, and he also lost a fumble that Maryland returned for a score.

Jordan, who surpassed the 100-yard mark for the sixth time in eight games, carried 22 times, caught two passes and scored Maryland's first touchdown.

Maryland went up 19-0 late in the third quarter when McCall, 11-for-19 for 178 yards, ended an 83-yard drive with a 1-yard touchdown pass to Eric James. Lewis Sanders then took a stray pitchout by Bulger 28 yards into the end zone on the final play of the period.

McCall followed Bulger's fourth interception with an 8-yard touchdown pass to Matt Kalapinski for a 33-0 lead.

Maryland improved to 3-0 for the first time since the 1995 season with its second shutout of a Big East opponent.

Game 4

(9) Georgia Tech 49
Maryland 31

September 30, 1999
Bobby Dodd Stadium • Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA - Heisman Trophy candidate Joe Hamilton threw for 387 yards and three touchdowns, ran for a 41-yard score and guided No. 9 Georgia Tech to a 49-31 victory over Maryland. Hamilton, the nation's top-rated passer, threw his first two interceptions of the season but compensated with TD passes of 80 and 29 yards to Dez White and a 30-yarder to Kerry Watkins.

The Terps matched the Jackets virtually score-for-score in the national TV game on ESPN, but in the end couldn't stop, nor match, Tech's offensive firepower.

Georgia Tech (3-1, 1-1 ACC) scored two touchdowns in the first 6 1/2 minutes, both on quick-striking, one-play "drives" to put more points on the board than the Terrapins had allowed in three games. But Maryland answered the first Tech score with an 84-yard kickoff return by Guilian Gary to set up the first of two LaMont Jordan touchdowns. Jordan's second TD knotted the score and Brian Kopka's 32-yard field goal staked the Terps to a 17-14 lead shortly before intermission.

White finished with five catches for 215 yards. His 21-yard catch put Tech back into the lead with 1:21 in the half, and Watkins' TD just 63 seconds later sent Maryland to the locker room down 11.

Maryland produced a five-minute, 80-yard drive to begin the second half and close to 28-24, but Hamilton broke loose on a 41-yard score and a 1-yard TD by Phillip Rogers kept the home team in command.

Jordan carried a career-high 27 times for 79 yards, and also threw a 60-yard touchdown pass to Jermaine Arrington.

Freshman quarterback Calvin McCall completed 15-of-30 passes for a career-best 221 yards.

Calvin McCall threw for a season-high 221 yards against the ninth-ranked Yellow Jackets.

Game 5

Maryland 17
Wake Forest 14

October 9, 1999
Groves Stadium • Winston-Salem, N.C.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - Calvin McCall and LaMont Jordan rallied Maryland for 10 points in the last 10 minutes and the Terrapins surpassed their 1998 victory total by defeating Wake Forest 17-14.

McCall completed both of his passes for 92 yards on Maryland's two fourth-quarter scoring drives, helping the Terrapins (4-1, 1-1 ACC) erase a 14-7 deficit.

Jordan rushed for 89 yards and teamed with McCall for a 70-yard scoring pass that tied the score. Jordan had 39 yards on three carries on the decisive drive, a 68-yard march that set up Brian Kopka's 19-yard field goal with 3:25 remaining.

Wake Forest (3-2, 1-2) got 128 rushing yards from senior Morgan Kane. Wake Forest's Ben Sankey rushed for two touchdowns, but Matthew Burdick came up 10 yards short on a 54-yard field-goal try with 68 seconds left.

Maryland did not get a first down on either of its two third-quarter possessions, but the Terrapins needed just one play to make it 14-all early in the fourth. McCall slipped free from a potential sack by defensive end Kelvin Jones, then threw a short pass over the middle to Jordan, who broke several tackles to turn it into a 70-yard score.

McCall wound up completing 11-of-21 passes for 182 yards, helping Maryland win at Groves Stadium for the ninth time in 10 games.

The Terrapins drove 50 yards on their first possession, capping it with a 17-yard scoring run around left end by Jordan. Wake Forest tied it later in the quarter on Sankey's 8-yard scramble. The play capped a drive that accounted for 43 of the Demon Deacons' 70 first-half yards.

Wake Forest had a good scoring chance early in the second quarter, but it ended when Maryland cornerback Lewis Sanders intercepted a pass at the Terrapins' 3-yard line.

Maryland won at Groves Stadium for the ninth time in 10 tries dating to 1981.

Game 6

Clemson 42
Maryland 30

October 16, 1999
Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Woodrow Dantzler amassed a Clemson-record 435 yards of offense, including 183 on the ground, and Clemson used a 21-point run in the second half to beat Maryland, 42-30.

Dantzler also set a Clemson record for rushing yardage by a quarterback.

Clemson (3-3, 3-1 ACC) never trailed after Travis Zachery scored on a 13-yard run to make it 28-24 midway through the third quarter. Bernard Rambert then scored twice from inside the 5 to help the Tigers pull away.

LaMont Jordan ran for career highs of 177 yards and four touchdowns for the Terrapins (4-2, 1-2) to move to fourth on Maryland's career rushing chart and mark just the third time a Maryland player has ever rushed for four TDs in a game.

Dantzler, though, generated enough offense to overcome Jordan and the Terps. He was 16 of 23 passing for 252 yards and his longest completion, a 44-yarder to Rod Gardner, set up Zachery's go-ahead touchdown.

The first half featured five touchdowns and 435 yards of offense, ending with Clemson clinging to a 21-17 lead.

Jordan capped Maryland's first possession with a 4-yard touchdown run, but the Tigers responded with an 80-yard drive in which Dantzler went 3-for-3 in the air and scored on a 23-yard run. An 11-yard touchdown run by Zachery put Clemson up 14-7, but the Terrapins came right back to tie it on a 49-yard run down the right sideline by Jordan.

Clemson took a 21-14 lead with Dantzler guiding an 88-yard march with a 46-yard run and a 23-yard pass on third-and-2. Maryland led briefly by taking the second-half kickoff and moving 80 yards in only 70 seconds. Calvin McCall completed two passes for 60 yards before Jordan scored on a 17-yard run.

LaMont Jordan became the first Maryland running back to score four touchdowns in a game since Charlie Wysocki in 1981.

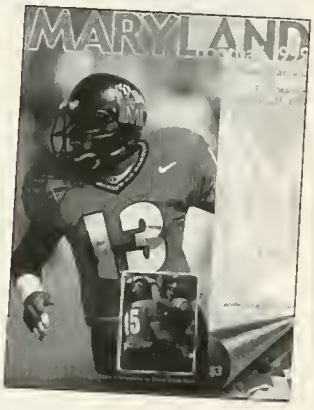
Game 7

Maryland 45
North Carolina 7

October 23, 1999
Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.



COLLEGE PARK, Md. - LaMont Jordan ran for 147 yards and two touchdowns and Maryland forced seven turnovers in handing North Carolina its worst loss in 10 years, 45-7. The Tar Heels lost four fumbles and threw three interceptions in their most lopsided loss since a 41-0 setback against Duke in 1989.

Marlon Moore returned an interception 51 yards for a score in a 24-point first quarter, and Maryland (5-2, 2-2 ACC) matched its largest victory margin in a series that began in 1920.

Jordan was removed late in the third period after moving past Rick Badanjek into third place on the school's career rushing list.

Brian Kopka kicked a 39-yard field goal on Maryland's first possession, a drive extended by a roughing-the-kicker penalty after the Terrapins faced fourth down on their own 32. The Tar Heels made an even costlier mistake on their first drive. Freshman Luke Huard tried to hit Kory Bailey on a third-down play, but Moore picked off the pass and went untouched into the end zone.

Sam Aiken fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Maryland's Rod Littles recovered at the 11. Two plays later, Calvin McCall hit Eric James over the middle for an 18-yard touchdown to make it 17-0. Littles then pounced on an onsides kick, but the Terrapins had to punt. After the Tar Heels were forced to punt, Maryland went up 24-0 when Matt Kalapinski scored the first of his two touchdowns.

North Carolina then switched to quarterback Antwon Black, but the results were no different. Black threw two interceptions in the second quarter, and the second one, Lewis Sanders' sixth theft in seven games, set up an 11-yard TD run by Jordan 47 seconds before halftime.

Maryland's 38-point decision matched its largest victory margin in the UNC series which began in 1920.

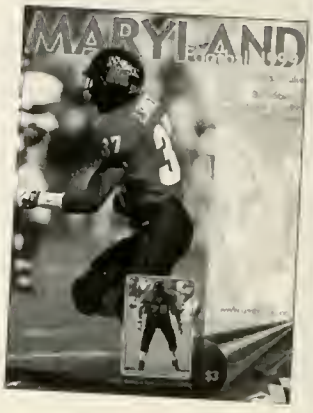
Game 8

Duke 25
Maryland 22

October 30, 1999
Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.



COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Spencer Romine passed for a career-high 404 yards and three touchdowns, including the game-winner to Scottie Montgomery with 1:42 left, as Duke rallied to upset Maryland 25-22.

Duke (2-6, 2-3 ACC) trailed 22-17 before Romine guided the Blue Devils on a 70-yard, 12-play drive. Facing fourth-and-goal from the 14, Romine hit Montgomery over the middle for the decisive score.

LaMont Jordan ran for a career-high 227 yards for the Terrapins (5-3, 2-3), trying to clinch their first winning season since 1995. Jordan, who had 165 yards rushing in the first half, became the fourth Maryland player to run for 1,000 yards in a season. The junior raised his career total to 1,082 yards with three games left, and his 227-yard effort on 24 carries was the third-best in school history.

Romine completed 27-of-42 passes, including eight to Richmond Flowers for 173 yards.

A 59-yard punt pinned Duke on their 4 early in the second half, and Maryland got a safety and a 19-14 lead when Romine was called for intentional grounding in the end zone.

The Terrapins then fumbled away the free kick, and Sims Lenhardt kicked a 32-yard field goal to bring Duke to 19-17. Late in the quarter, however, Lenhardt missed a chance to put the Blue Devils ahead when his 43-yard field goal attempt was blocked by Kris Jenkins.

Maryland made it 22-17 with 8:46 remaining when Brian Kopka kicked a 28-yard field goal to end a 13-play drive that featured two key penalties. A 61-yard run by Jordan was brought back because of holding, but later Duke was called for a personal foul after quarterback Calvin McCall came up short on a third-down run.

LaMont Jordan, who had 165 yards rushing in the first half, became the fourth Maryland player to run for 1,000 yards in a season.

Game 9

NC State 30
Maryland 17

November 6, 1999
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C.

RALEIGH, N.C. - Jamie Barnette threw for two touchdowns to set an Atlantic Coast Conference record and Kent Passingham kicked three field goals as North Carolina State beat Maryland 30-17.

Barnette, playing in his final home game and passing 23 of 37 for 324 yards, moved to the top of the ACC career touchdown passing list with 59, two more than Florida State's Danny Kannell.

Barnette's second TD pass gave the Wolfpack (6-4, 3-4 ACC) a 24-10 lead with 11 seconds left in the first half. Barnette was flushed out of the pocket before throwing to the end zone to a wide-open Andy Vanderveer.

NC State increased its lead to 30-10 with 2:33 to go in the third quarter after Passingham kicked field goals of 26 and 31 yards on consecutive possessions.

Maryland (5-4, 2-4), on the verge of its first winning season since 1995, cut the lead to 30-17 on LaMont Jordan's 1-yard touchdown run with 12:12 left in the game. Jordan, Maryland's top rusher with an average of 135.3 yards per game, was held to 75.

After swapping the lead twice early, the Wolfpack went ahead 17-10 on Ray Robinson's 1-yard touchdown run with 3:18 to go in the second quarter.

Maryland led 7-0 when NC State's Rahshon Spikes fumbled on the first play of the game and Tony Okanlawon carried the loose ball 21 yards for a touchdown.

Barnette got NC State into the game by capping a 12-play, 80-yard drive with a 23-yard scoring pass to Chris Coleman. After Passingham's 27-yard field goal with 13:53 left in the second quarter, the Terrapins moved inside the NC State 20, but settled for Brian Kopka's 31-yard field goal to tie the score at 10-10 with 9:12 to go in the half.

Tony Okanlawon's returned fumble for a TD was Maryland's first since Peter Timmins brought one back on Oct. 31, 1998 against Georgia Tech.

Game 10

(1) Florida State 49
Maryland 10

November 13, 1999
Doak Campbell Stadium • Tallahassee, Fla.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - After weeks of inconsistent performances, top-ranked Florida State looked deserving of its ranking as senior quarterback Chris Weinke threw six touchdown passes — three to Peter Warrick — as the Seminoles dominated Maryland 49-10, reaching 10 victories for the 13th straight season.

The Seminoles (10-0, 8-0 ACC) set the stage for a meeting at Florida which, with a win, would guarantee a second straight trip to the national championship game.

Weinke, who did not play in the fourth quarter, threw four touchdown passes by halftime. He had two 6-yard scoring throws to Ron Dugans, another 5-yard TD to Warrick and a 30-yarder to Atrews Bell as the Seminoles built a 28-3 lead.

Weinke combined with Warrick on scoring plays covering 26 and 28 yards in the third period as the Seminoles increased the lead to 42-3. Marcus Outzen's 35-yard touchdown pass to Greg Moore in the fourth quarter completed Florida State's scoring.

Maryland (5-5, 2-5) was hurt by five turnovers and also had two punts blocked, offsetting LaMont Jordan's 169 rushing yards — the most against Florida State since 1995. The Terps pulled within 7-3 in the second quarter on Brian Kopka's 38-yard field goal, but didn't score again until Eric James' 1-yard touchdown catch in the fourth quarter.

Maryland, playing true freshman quarterback Latrez Harrison in his debut as a college starter, was forced to finish the contest with fifth-year senior and third-string quarterback Trey Evans after Harrison left the game with an ankle sprain in the second quarter. Evans finished 9 of 16 passing for 56 yards and four interceptions.

Warrick caught nine passes for 134 yards and became the ACC's career leader with 3,427 receiving yards. Weinke was 23-of-33 for 304 yards.

LaMont Jordan's 169 rushing yards against the Seminoles were the most against Florida State since 1995.

Game 11

Virginia 34
Maryland 30

November 20, 1999
Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Dan Ellis threw a 20-yard touchdown pass to Billy McMullen with 26 seconds left as Virginia overcame a school-record 306-yard rushing performance by LaMont Jordan to beat Maryland, 34-30. Jordan's rushing effort was the third-best in ACC history.

Virginia (7-4, 5-3 ACC) dashed the Terrapins' postseason bowl hopes when McMullen's catch on the left side of the end zone capped a 76-yard, game-winning drive. The Cavaliers had gotten the ball on their own 24 with no timeouts left and down by three points.

Ellis went 21-for-34 for 276 yards and four touchdowns. Virginia's Thomas Jones ran for 91 yards and broke the ACC single-season rushing record set in 1970.

Maryland (5-6, 2-6 ACC), poised to make its first trip to the postseason since 1990, rallied from an early 17-0 deficit behind Jordan, whose sensational performance included a 90-yard touchdown run. The Terps had taken a 30-27 lead on a 22-yard field goal by Brian Kopka with 5:18 left and appeared certain of victory when a fourth-down pass by Ellis fell incomplete with 1:40 to go. But Maryland failed to get a first down to set the stage for Virginia's comeback.

Jordan carried the ball 37 times as Maryland amassed 445 yards on the ground, their most since a 582-yard effort against Virginia in 1985. Jordan finished the season with 1,632 yards, the highest total by a junior in ACC history.

Maryland coach Ron Vanderlinden pulled out all the stops in an effort to win the game, replacing freshman quarterback Latrez Harrison after three series with the Terrapins down 17-0. Randall Jones, who led the offense last year but was moved to safety after the season opener, took over and brought Maryland back into a tie by halftime.

Jordan ran for a Maryland record 306 yards and the Terps gained 445 yards on the ground, their most since a 582-yard effort against Virginia in 1985.

Year-By-Year-Results

Game-by-game results for every Maryland football season since 1892. Maryland was known as Maryland Agricultural College from 1892-1915, and as Maryland State College from 1916-1919. Maryland's conference affiliations: Atlantic Coast Conference since 1953, Southern Conference from 1921-51 (SC standings not available from 1921-32) and South Atlantic Intercollegiate Athletic Association in 1920.

Home games were played at Byrd Field or "Old" Byrd Stadium, across the street from the campus on Baltimore Ave., from 1923-1947 and again in 1949. Home games in 1948 were played at Griffith Stadium in Washington, D.C. Home games since 1950 have been played at Byrd Stadium on campus.

Home, road and neutral records are in parentheses (H, A, N). Maryland and opponent Associated Press rankings are in brackets - AP polls began in 1936. From 1961-1967, the Associated Press ranked only the nation's top 10 teams.

1953 National Champions

ACC Co-Champions

College Park is home to the nation's No. 1 football team. The Maryland grid team swept past its 10 regular season opponents with a perfect record and, in so doing, scored a total of 298 points while limiting its opposition to a record 31. Coach Jim Tatum was named the national coach of the year and many Old Line players were selected to various all-star teams. Operating out of the split T, Maryland ranked sixth in the nation in total offense with a 359.5-yard average. On defense, the team yielded only 193.2 yards per game and led the country in rushing (83.9) and scoring defense (3.1). During the '53 campaign, the Terps made up for two defeats handed them in 1952 by decisively beating Mississippi and Alabama. After the Terps downed Miami 30-0, Hurricane coach Andy Gustafson summed up the nation's top team by saying, "Maryland has one of the greatest teams I've ever seen." Maryland began the season with a No. 9 preseason ranking by the Associated Press and took over the top spot in the polls on the final week of the regular season after the No. 2 Terps waxed the No. 11 Crimson Tide, 21-0. The top-ranked and undefeated Terps tied No. 18 Duke for the inaugural ACC title, but fell to 10-1 after losing the Orange Bowl to Oklahoma, 7-0.

Ranked #14

The Tatum system was clicking by the third season under the new coach. Maryland scored more points than in any previous season in its history - 266 to its opponents' 81. Jim Tatum and a collection of new players lifted Maryland to its first ranking in the AP poll. Newcomers such as Ed Modzelewski, Bob Ward, Bob Shemonski and junior All-America tackle Ray Krouse were instrumental in leading the Terrapins to eight decisive regular season victories, losing only to No. 13 Michigan State, 14-7. The Terps plowed through the opposition, and after beating No. 15 Boston U. by a 14-13 count, earned the No. 15 poll position themselves. Maryland ended the regular season with a 13-0 shutout at Miami. The Terps earned their first bowl victory with a 20-7 rout of Missouri in the Gator Bowl.

Southern Conference Co-Champions

Maryland completed its only undefeated season in history and clobbered top-ranked and heavily favored Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl to lay its own claim to a national crown. Led by All-American tackles Bob Ward and Ray Krouse, brothers Ed and Dick Modzelewski, and QB Jack Scarbath, Maryland accepted a Sugar Bowl invitation against the recommendation of Southern Conference presidents who sought for all league institutions to boycott the bowls. The Terps were decided underdogs against No. 1 Tennessee, but Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski's 153 rushing yards and a 28-13 victory prompted Tennessee coach Bob Neyland to state, "We were soundly beaten by a superior team."

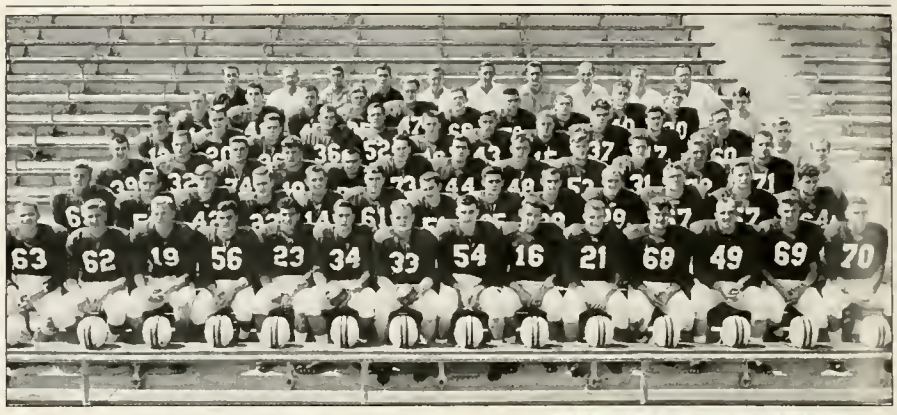
Ranked #13

The amazing win streak continued in 1952, but it ended abruptly and Maryland was kept out of a bowl game despite its No. 13 final ranking. The Terps had amassed 19 straight wins and 22 straight games without a defeat before falling 21-14 at Mississippi on Nov. 15. The end came in the eighth game of a schedule that was revised heavily after Southern Conference teams refused to play Maryland because the Terps had chosen to play in the previous season's Sugar Bowl. Ole Miss scored a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns to upend the Terps, and Maryland fell 27-7 to Alabama the following week to quell any hopes of a bowl bid. Bernie Faloney and Jack Scarbath both were All-Americans and Scarbath, a preseason favorite to win the Heisman Trophy, finished second in the balloting.



Chet Hanulak raced past the Bastan U. defenders far a 15-yard TD an Nav. 1.

Ranked #8

Entering the season ranked No. 3 in the nation, the Terps began the 1954 campaign in convincing style, shutting out Kentucky 24-0 in their season opener. But the Terps stumbled in their next game, losing a close 12-7 decision to fourth-ranked UCLA. That dropped Maryland to No. 13 in the polls heading into their ACC matchup vs. Wake Forest. A 13-13 tie with the Demon Deacons sent the Terps tumbling out of the national rankings for the first time since 1950. Maryland rebounded to shut out North Carolina 33-0 before dropping a 9-7 road decision to Miami. The Terps went on to win their final five games by a combined score of 200-33, including a 74-13 Thanksgiving Day shellacking of Missouri. Maryland finished the season with a No. 8 national ranking.

Jerry Claiborne's second season as Maryland coach lifted the Terps to a 5-1 mark in the ACC, and their first national ranking in 12 seasons. The Terps were 5-3 after a 42-22 loss to No. 6 Penn State, but three decisive wins over Virginia, Clemson and Tulane earned Maryland a bid to its first bowl game since the 1956 Orange Bowl. Maryland dominated Georgia in the Peach Bowl, outgaining the Bulldogs 461 to 284 on offense and driving inside the Georgia 20-yard line seven times. Four turnovers proved costly, however, and after a 10-10 tie at intermission, all Maryland could muster were a pair of fourth-quarter field goals by Steve Mike-Mayer. Defensive tackle Randy White earned the first of his two All-America awards.

ACC Champions

The powerful Terrapins swept through the regular season undefeated and became only the second team in ACC history to win three consecutive league titles outright. Coach Jerry Claiborne's club ran its conference victory string to a record 20 straight. The Terps appeared in a bowl for the fourth straight year, losing to Southwest Conference champion Houston, 30-21, in the Cotton Bowl. Maryland tackle Joe Campbell was a consensus All-American. Maryland's No. 8 ranking in the final AP poll was the first Top 10 finish by an ACC team since 1960.

The Terps fired out of the gates 8-0 including a 31-7 homecoming win over No. 20 NC State. Maryland steadily rose in the polls, and after a 27-0 shutout of Duke, was No. 5 heading into a showdown at No. 2 Penn State. The Nittany Lions won a 27-3 decision in front of 78,019 which dropped Maryland to No. 13 in the polls, but after a 17-7 win at Virginia the Terps were paired with Clemson for an ACC first-place showdown. No. 11 Maryland and No. 12 Clemson entered the regular season finale both tied at 5-0. Clemson emerged from the Byrd Stadium shootout a 28-24 victor. The loss sent Maryland into a disappointing Sun Bowl matchup with Texas where it suffered its worst bowl loss ever, 42-0.

Junior quarterback Boomer Esiason led the Terrapins and first-year head coach Bobby Ross to a seven-game midseason win streak which earned Maryland its first national ranking in two seasons. After early season losses at No. 7 Penn State and No. 17 West Virginia, Maryland scored points at will while rolling through its ACC schedule. The Terrapins' 31-point average was second only to its undefeated season of 1951, and Ross was named the national coach of the year by the Washington Touchdown Club. A 31-24 win at No. 10 North Carolina put Maryland back in the rankings, and another shootout with Clemson would determine the ACC champion. No. 16 Maryland was invited to the inaugural Aloha Bowl in Honolulu where it surrendered a last-second touchdown to No. 9 Washington, losing 21-20.

Gambino's three scores propelled Maryland to a 20-7 lead, but Georgia reeled off 13 points in the fourth quarter to tie the game. The Bulldogs threatened to win the game in the closing seconds, but time ran out with Georgia on Maryland's four-yard line. Despite the tie, there was no question as to the game's most valuable player. Gambino won the Burkhalter Award, signifying the game's outstanding performer. Gambino was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame in 1992.

This was the first game of the contract that pitted the Big Eight Conference champion against the Atlantic Coast Conference champion. The Terrapins took an undefeated season and the nation's No. 1 ranking into the game against an Oklahoma squad that used a powerful running attack to grind out a second quarter touchdown to propel the Sooners to a 7-0 win. Twice the Terps had first down opportunities with the ball inside the 10-yard line and failed to come away with any points. Despite the narrow loss, the Terrapins claimed the 1953 national championship.

The third-ranked Terps came into the Orange Bowl riding a 15-game winning streak, only to have it snapped by an Oklahoma team that extended its winning streak to 30 games with its 20-6 win. The Terps, who led 6-0 at halftime, were stunned when the Sooners went into their famous "fast break offense" and reeled off two third quarter touchdowns to earn the national championship. Ed Vereb, who scored the Terps' lone touchdown, finished with 108 rushing yards. Maryland was hurt by five turnovers.

Maryland came away from its first bowl game in 18 years a bitterly disappointed team. The Terrapins dominated Georgia in all phases, but the game was tied 10-10 at the half thanks to a couple of big plays by the Bulldogs. In the third quarter, a costly Terp fumble led to Georgia's go-ahead touchdown. Seven times the Terrapins were inside the Georgia 20-yard line, coming away with only nine points. The Terps' lone touchdown came via Walter White's 68-yard touchdown reception.

The Maryland defense, led by All-ACC defensive tackle Randy White, shut out Tennessee for nearly four quarters but lost the game when the Volunteers' quarterback, Randy Wallace, found Larry Seivers for an 11-yard touchdown pass with 2:08 to play. The Terps were punting from their own 13 when a bad snap from center was recovered by the Volunteers on the Maryland seven-yard line. The ACC champion Terrapins headed into the 1975 Gator Bowl as a seven-point underdog to the Florida Gators. However, this did not deter the Terps, who were coming off their best season (8-2-1) in 20 years. Maryland shut out the Gators, 13-0, in front of a large pro-Florida crowd in a steady downpour. The Maryland defense held the SEC's total offense leader scoreless and intercepted two Florida passes which led to the first 10 Maryland points. This was the first Terp win over an SEC team since 1955.

Terps In The Hall of Fame

Bob Ward

National Football Founoation College Hall of Fame (1980)

Bob Ward weighed all of 165 pounds throughout his four-year playing career at Maryland and, even in the early 1950s, that was no size for a lineman. Especially a lineman who was a first-team All-America middle guard on defense as a junior in 1950 and a first-team offensive guard as a senior in 1951.

The forte of the Maryland teams of the early 1950s was consistency—a winning consistency. During Ward's four years, the team was a combined 32-7-1, winning two bowl games (1949 Gator over Missouri, 1951 Sugar over Tennessee to complete a perfect 10-0 season).

The awards and honors Ward earned as a Maryland player belie physical stature, but speak volumes about the man. He was the MVP of the 1949 Gator Bowl, Maryland's first bowl victory. He was the only player ever to earn All-America honors as both an offensive and defensive position player. He earned Southern Conference Player of the Year honors as a senior and was chosen Lineman of the Year by the Washington Touchdown Club and the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association in 1951.

Bob Ward was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1980.

Bob Ward

Jack Scarbath

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1983)

Jack Scarbath is an integral part of Maryland football history. In his first start, the All-America quarterback scored the first touchdown in the new Byrd Stadium, a 21-yard run in the first game of the 1950 season.

Scarbath was the quarterback for head coach Jim Tatum's new split T offense for three seasons (1950-52). Scarbath led the Terps to a 24-4-1 record, including a perfect 10-0 season and a 28-13 upset of national champion Tennessee in the 1951 Sugar Bowl. Scarbath called the signals during Maryland's 22-game unbeaten streak over the course of the 1950, '51 and '52 seasons.

During his stellar career, Scarbath rewrote the Terrapin record book, completing 125 of 260 passes for 2,287 yards, an average of 18.3 yards per completion. In 1951, AP and UP polls named him honorable mention All-American. In 1952, he was honored with first team All-America citations from AP, UP, International News Service, Colliers, and Look. He finished runner-up to Oklahoma's Billy Vessels in the 1952 Heisman Trophy balloting.

A first-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins, Scarbath went on to play with the Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1983.

Jack Scarbath

Jim Tatum

National Football Founoation College Hall of Fame (1984)

In a brief time as a college football head coach -- one season at North Carolina (1942, 5-2-2), one at Oklahoma (1946, 8-3, Gator Bowl victory over North Carolina State) and nine years at Maryland (1947-55, 73-15-4, 2-2-1 in bowl games) -- Jim Tatum had become a coaching legend.

Tatum's Maryland teams from 1950-55 were 51-8-2, with a perfect 10-0 record and Sugar Bowl victory in 1951. The squad posted 10-0 regular season records in 1953 and 1955 before both teams were upset by Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. Tatum's 1953 team was declared national champion, and Tatum was named national Coach of the Year.

During his career at Maryland, Tatum led the Terps to 19 consecutive wins and an unbeaten streak of 22 games (21-0-1) during the 1950, '51 and '52 campaigns. In the 1952 Sugar Bowl, the Terrapins defeated top-ranked Tennessee 23-13.

Tatum left Maryland following the 1955 season to return to his alma mater, North Carolina, in 1956. He coached the Tar Heels for three more seasons.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1984.

Jim Tatum

Stan Jones

Pro Football Hall of Fame (1991)

National Football Founoation College Hall of Fame (2000)

Stan Jones was the starting right tackle on the Terp defense that allowed only 31 points during 10 regular season games in 1953. With Jones leading the way, Maryland recorded six shutouts and allowed only one team, Georgia, to score more than six points.

It all added up to a 10-0 regular season for the Terps, who captured the national championship despite an upset loss to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

Jones earned consensus All-America honors in 1953 and was chosen "Outstanding College Lineman of 1953" by the College Football Coaching Board. A fifth-round draft choice of the Chicago Bears, Jones went on to have a lengthy pro career. He spent a majority of his career with the Bears (1954-65) before finishing at Washington (1966).

"I was very prepared for the NFL when I left Maryland," Jones said. "From my coaches who taught me football to my professors who taught me anatomy, physiology and weight training, I received a great education. I couldn't have picked a better place to go."

Jones was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1991 and selected for the College Football Hall of Fame in 2000.

Terps In The Hall of Fame

Dick Modzelewski

National Football Founoation College Hall of Fame (1993)

Through three All-America years at Maryland and 14 All-Pro years in the National Football League, Dick Modzelewski was always "Little Mo." At 6-0, 235 pounds during his playing days at Maryland, he was one of the bigger collegiate linemen during the early 1950s. He was the second Mo at Maryland, following his older brother Ed, "Big Mo."

Dick Modzelewski played three years as defensive tackle for the Terps on the great teams which were 24-4-1. He became Maryland's first winner of a major national honor when he received the Outland Trophy as the nation's top lineman in 1952. Through his career at Maryland, the Terps fashioned a 22-game unbeaten streak.

At the end of his senior season, Modzelewski was named to every All-America team and was awarded the Outland Trophy. He was a second-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins. He spent 14 seasons in the NFL, with the Redskins, the Pittsburgh Steelers, the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns. Modzelewski was an All-Pro and on NFL championship teams with both the Giants (1956) and the Browns (1964).

Dick Modzelewski was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1993.

Dick Modzelewski

Randy White

Pro Football Hall of Fame (1994)

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1994)

Randy White changed the look of football's defensive lines. At Maryland, and later in an All-Pro National Football League career with the Dallas Cowboys, he was regarded as the quickest defensive lineman to play the game. He could be in an opponent's backfield before a quarterback could make a hand-off.

In 1974, Randy White cleaned up the college football awards plate. He was honored with the Outland and Lombardi trophies as the top collegiate lineman, was ACC Player of the Year, was an unanimous first-team All-America choice, named the Delaware (his home state) Athlete of the Year and named the Amateur Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

A first round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys, White was an All-Pro performer throughout his career and shared Super Bowl MVP honors with Dallas teammate Harvey Martin when the Cowboys defeated Denver in Super Bowl XII.

White's No. 94 number has been retired at Maryland. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame and the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1994.

Rondy White

Bob Pellegrini

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1996)

Bob Pellegrini was recruited to Maryland as a quarterback, but made his name as one of college football's best linemen. In his first season, Pellegrini was a 6-2, 215-pound sophomore guard for the 1953 national champion Terrapins. He would play guard again in 1954 in an era when players went both ways, before being switched to center for his senior year to fill a Terrapin void.

As a senior, Pellegrini led Maryland to its second 10-0 regular season and ACC championship in three years as the Terps defeated defending national champion UCLA. He was selected ACC Player of the Year, named consensus All-America and pictured as Herman Hickman's cover boy for Lineman of the Year in 1955.

Pellegrini led the Terps to a 27-4-1 record over his career, with rankings in the Top 10 each season. He was the first pick in the National Football League draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. Pellegrini became one of the building blocks of an Eagle turnaround that took the team to the top of the football world. A losing team when he joined, the Eagles defeated Vince Lombardi's Green Bay Packers for the World Championship four years later with Bob Pellegrini at linebacker.

Bob Pellegrini was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in December 1996.

Bob Pellegrini

Jerry Claiborne

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame (1999)

Former Maryland football coach Jerry Claiborne was selected to join 12 legendary college football players and two other coaches among the 1999 class of inductees into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame.

Claiborne coached 28 seasons overall between stints at Virginia Tech (1961-70), Maryland (1972- 81) and Kentucky (1982-89), and compiled a 179-122-8 record in the process. He is currently 28th on the all- time Division I-A coaching victories list.

At Maryland, Claiborne was named The Sporting News National Coach of the Year in 1974 after winning the Atlantic Coast Conference and finishing the season ranked No. 13 by the Associated Press. He was the District III Coach of the Year in 1973, 1975 and 1976.

In all, Claiborne was the coach of the year in three different conferences --- Southern (1963), ACC (1973, '75, '76) and Southeastern (1983) --- while leading his teams to 11 bowl games. Throughout his coaching career, he was a strong advocate of the right combination of academics and athletics. In his years as head coach, he had four players named Academic All-America and 87 players earn academic all-conference honors. On the field, he coached 13 All-Americans and 53 who earned all-conference status.

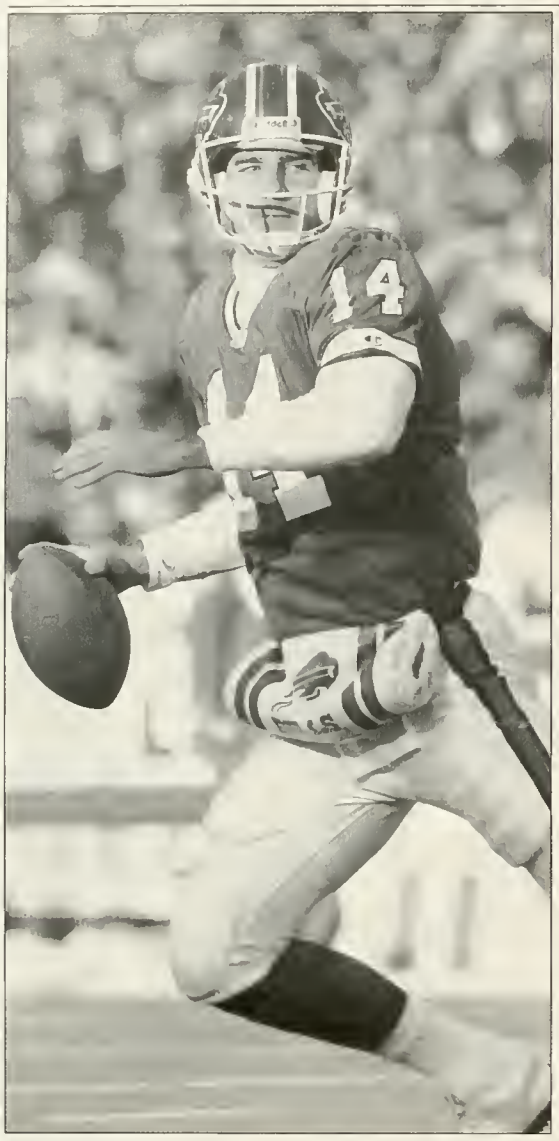
Frank Reich: The King Of Comebacks



Reich led the Bills back fram a 35-3 third-quarter deficit.

When it comes to engineering record-setting comeback victories, no one has done it better than Maryland's Frank Reich, who was at the controls for the greatest comebacks in NCAA and NFL history.

Reich's first encounter with greatness occurred as a senior in 1984, when he came off the bench to lead the Terps to what then ranked as the biggest comeback in NCAA history. Down 31-0 at halftime to the defending national champion Miami Hurricanes, head coach Bobby Ross inserted Reich into the lineup in place of Stan Gelbaugh, and Reich proceeded to complete 12 of 16 passes for 260 yards and three touchdowns in propelling the Terps to a 42-40 victory in the Orange Bowl.

Eight years later, on Jan. 3, 1993, Reich met destiny again as he led the Buffalo Bills to the greatest comeback in pro football annals. As in the Miami game in 1984, Reich came off the bench and performed his heroics against a top-notch opponent. This time the foe was the Houston Oilers, who appeared on their way to an easy playoff win by building a 35-3 lead early in the second half.

Reich, however, wasn't deterred. Filling in for the injured Jim Kelly, he demonstrated grace under fire by throwing for a career-high 289 yards and four touchdowns as the Bills went on to win 41-38 in overtime.

Reich led Maryland ta victary after trailing 31-0 at the half.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Ten years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park, was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

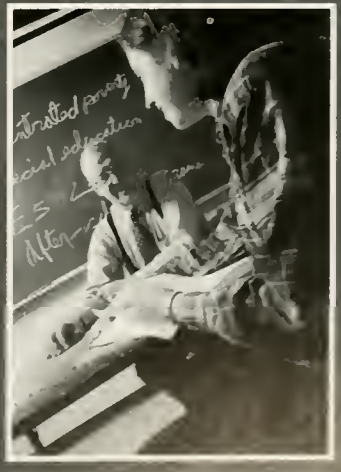
With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. And intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources such as inforM, or send electronic mail to faculty, fellow students or friends at other universities.



Maryland's Colleges and Schools

College of Agriculture and Natural Resources

The College of Agriculture and Natural Resources offers a variety of academic programs that apply science, management, design, and engineering to improve the world in which we live and work. Feeding the world population, developing scientifically-based land use practices and policies, understanding animal and plant biology, improving nutrition and its effects on human health, and profitably managing farms and agribusinesses in harmony with ecosystems are all vital concerns of the college.

School of Architecture

The School of Architecture offers a four-year undergraduate program leading to the bachelor of science degree in architecture, and a graduate program leading to the professional master of architecture. The undergraduate major in architecture is designed to minimize the time required to complete the curriculum leading to the professional degree. Students receive rigorous and comprehensive instruction from a faculty whose members are active in professional practice or research. Many faculty members have distinguished themselves across the professional spectrum and represent different approaches to architectural design. The B.S. degree in architecture will qualify graduates to pursue a career in any number of fields, such as construction, real estate development, public administration, or historic preservation, or to continue in graduate work in professional fields such as architecture, urban planning, or law.

College of Arts and Humanities

The College of Arts and Humanities embraces a heterogeneous group of disciplines, all of which value the development of critical thinking, fluent expression in writing and speech, sensitivity to ethical and aesthetic standards, and a complex understanding of history and culture. Preparation provides valuable background for careers in a broad range of fields.

College of Behavioral and Social Sciences

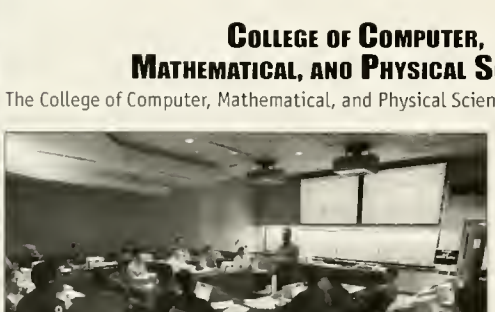
The College of Behavioral and Social Sciences is comprised of a diverse group of disciplines and fields of study all of which emphasize a broad liberal arts education as the foundation for understanding the environmental, social and cultural forces that shape our world. Disciplines in the behavioral and social sciences use approaches that range from the scientific to the philosophical, from the experimental to the theoretical.

Robert H. Smith School of Business

The Robert H. Smith School of Business recognizes the importance of education in business and management to economic, social, and professional development through profit and non-profit organizations at the local, regional, national and international levels. The faculty are scholars, teachers, and professional leaders with a commitment to superior education in business and management, specializing in accounting, finance, decision and information sciences, management science and statistics, management and organization, marketing, logistics and transportation, and business and public policy.

College of Computer, Mathematical, and Physical Sciences

The College of Computer, Mathematical, and Physical Sciences contributes very substantially and effectively to the research activities of the University of Maryland. This college is like a technical institute within a large university. Students majoring in any one of the disciplines encompassed by the college have the opportunity of obtaining an outstanding education in their field.



College of Education

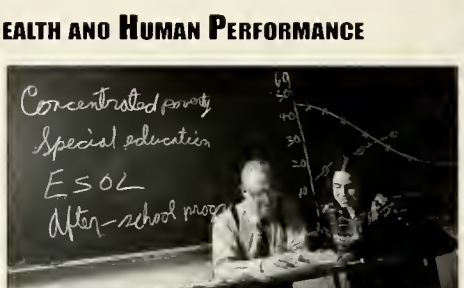
The College of Education is a professional college committed to advancing the science and art of teaching/learning, including the practices and processes which occur from infancy through adulthood in both school and non-school settings. The college's mission is to provide preparation for current and future teachers, counselors, administrators, educational specialists, and other related educational personnel, and to create and disseminate the knowledge needed by professionals and policy makers in education and related fields.

A. James Clark School of Engineering

The mission of the Clark School of Engineering is to provide quality engineering education, with sufficient scope to include both fundamental and specialized engineering training, so that graduates are prepared to serve the current and emerging needs of society. In addition to its teaching role, the school feels a related responsibility to conduct strong research programs that contribute to the advancement of knowledge.

College of Health and Human Performance

The College of Health and Human Performance provides preparation leading to the bachelor of science degree in the following professional areas: physical education (K-12), health education (school and community), and family studies. The college also offers curricula in kinesiological sciences and safety education. In addition, each department offers a wide variety of courses for all university students.



College of Journalism

Located just nine miles from the nation's capital and 30 miles from the bustling commercial port of Baltimore, the College of Journalism is one of six comprehensive journalism schools in the 10 states stretching from New York to Virginia — the nation's most populous region. But the college has a lot more than geography going for it. The National Assessment of Journalism Education by the Freedom Forum Media Studies Center at Columbia University designated the college one of "Eleven Exemplary Journalism Schools" nationwide: those that surpass others in criteria including teaching, research, facilities and job placement.

College of Library and Information Services

The College of Library and Information Services offers degree programs for individuals interested in careers in information services and management. At the master's level, students may specialize in several fields, including archival studies, geographic information systems, health information services, school library media services, and science and technology information systems.

College of Life Sciences

The College of Life Sciences offers educational opportunities for students in subject matters relating to living organisms and their interaction with one another and with the environment. Programs of study include those involving the most fundamental concepts of biological science and chemistry and the use of knowledge in daily life, as well as the application of economic and engineering principles in planning the improvement of life.

School of Public Affairs

The School of Public Affairs provides graduate-level, professional education to men and women interested in careers in public service. Five disciplines are emphasized: finance, statistics, economics, politics, and ethics. Students specialize in international security and economic policy, public sector financial management, environmental policy, or social policy.

More, Better Students Want To Go To Maryland

The University of Maryland projects another record-breaking year for the quality of admitted students. The number of applications, GPAs and SAT scores all were up from the same time last year.

For the last 10 years, the quality of students being admitted to the University of Maryland has risen steadily. Average GPAs for incoming freshmen have risen from just under 3.0 to a projected 3.69, SAT scores of the middle 50 percent have gone from 980-1,150 to a projected 1,170-1,340, and the number of students with SAT scores above 1,300 has increased from 234 to a projected 1,155.

The University of Maryland has the state's largest concentration of academically talented students, with more than one-third of them enrolled in the invitation-only Honors, Honors Humanities, College Park Scholar or Gemstone programs.

Why There's No Better Place

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland. As Washingtonian magazine noted in its December, 1997 issue, "...kids are turning down schools like Princeton and Virginia to go to College Park." With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are more than 100 majors and some of the highest ranked programs in the country. For instance, in the latest U.S. News & World Report rankings, University of Maryland ranked 22nd among national public universities. Among graduate schools, the Clark School of Engineering tied for 17th nationally; the Robert H. Smith School of Business graduate program ranked 26th; the computer science Ph.D program in the College of Computer, Mathematical and Physical Sciences ranked 11th; the College of Education ranked 22nd; and the College of Library and Information Services ranked 14th. The College of Business also has been named one of the country's top business schools for entrepreneurs by Success magazine.

For exceptional students seeking an exceptional education at the University of Maryland, College Park, there are a number of programs designed to enrich the learning experience. Among them are the Honors Program, ranked among the nine best in the country by ARCO's Guide to Ivy Leogue Programs at State School Prices; College Park Scholars, which encourages students who share common intellectual interests to live and study together in 10 specialty areas; and the Gemstone Program, which links student teams from engineering, the humanities, business and the physical sciences in a four-year research project.

Supporting the research needs of students and faculty are some of the country's best research facilities. In 1994, the largest, most technically advanced research archives in the world — National Archives II — moved to College Park. In addition, just outside of College Park are the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine, among others. The university itself has the most comprehensive library system in the area.

High tech, engineering and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internship and work-study opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide. The Kennedy Center alone houses the National Symphony Orchestra, five performance stages, an opera company, and the American Film Institute. In Baltimore, one of the great ports of the world, the Inner Harbor has become a cultural magnet for thousands of tourists each year, offering the National Aquarium, the Maryland Science Center, and other attractions.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland, College Park offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

President C.D. Mote, Jr.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. took office as president in September 1998 with a clear vision for taking the University of Maryland down the home stretch to its destiny as one of America's great research universities.

Mote came to Maryland from the University of California at Berkeley, where he had earned all of his degrees, and where he had served in faculty and administration more than 30 years. He had most recently been vice chancellor for university relations.

In Maryland, he found a university already well on its way to achieving the greatness envisioned when the General Assembly declared it the flagship institution of the University System of Maryland. Mote immediately took a leadership role on the Governor's Task Force on Governance, Coordination and Funding of the University System of Maryland to gain greater autonomy and flexibility for the university to pursue its goals. He followed that by working closely with state leaders to boost university funding for new programs, scholarships and faculty, gaining a 10 percent appropriations increase in his first year and matching that level of increase again in his second year.

Mote spelled out in his inauguration address his vision of Maryland as a great research university, where teaching and research are "inseparable." In this plan, the faculty creates a culture of excellence that permeates the university, student success is the center of all activity, and the extended Maryland family of alumni and friends grows rich in pride and tradition.

Mote observed that "a decade ago, we dreamed the impossible – the great research university. Then we sought the improbable – the great research university. Soon we will grasp the inevitable – the great research university."

High achievement has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California at Berkeley, through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley. He arrived in College Park determined to continue the same level of achievement in his new post.

After earning his doctorate in engineering mechanics from Berkeley in 1963, Mote spent a year as a research fellow at the University of Birmingham in England, then three years as assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh before returning to Berkeley in 1967.

There he stayed for more than 30 years before coming to Maryland. He was promoted to professor in 1973.

Mote served two terms as vice chair of mechanical engineering and served as chair from 1987 to 1991. At that time, he was appointed to the endowed FANUC Chair in mechanical systems, in addition to being named vice chancellor for university relations, the post he held until accepting the presidency at Maryland in 1998.

Mote has participated with distinction in every phase of the academic enterprise, including classroom teaching, working with students, basic research, applied research and service to the university and the community.

Much respected by his students, Mote earned the 1971 Distinguished Teaching Award and the 1975 Pi Tau Sigma Excellence in Teaching Award for the University of California. He has supervised the research of more than 50 doctoral students, including several who are still in progress, and more than 60 master's theses. He has continued teaching and supervising graduate students even during his administrative assignments, and several of his graduate students from Berkeley commute to Maryland to meet with him as they finish their dissertations. Mote has stated his intention to teach and work with graduate students at Maryland as well.

Mote's research activities have focused on dynamic systems, instrumentation, vibration and biomechanics. He has achieved international recognition for his work on the stability of gyroscopic systems, including high-speed translating and rotating systems such as circular and band saws, computer memory disks and tapes. He also has researched the biomechanics of skiing injuries and the development of safer ski bindings. His research has resulted in more than 300 scholarly publications as well as patents in the United States, Norway, Finland and Sweden.

A registered professional engineer in California, Mote has served in numerous capacities for professional societies, including the National Academy of Engineering (NAE), the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), and is co-editor of its biannual research series, "Skiing Trauma and Safety."

Mote's work has been supported continuously since 1962 by the National Science Foundation, and he also has received research fellowships from the Royal Norwegian Council for Scientific and Industrial Research. The American Society of Mechanical Engineers International elected him to honorary membership in 1975, and he has been elected as well to fellow grade in the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

He was elected to the prestigious National Academy of Engineering in 1988, and in that same year was awarded the Humboldt Prize by the Federal Republic of Germany. In 1991, the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science awarded him a fellowship.

In 1992, he conceived, designed and implemented a $1.1 billion comprehensive capital campaign, which has exceeded $1 billion to date.

By the end of Mote's second year at Maryland, the university's ongoing capital campaign, Bold Vision • Bright Future, had raised nearly $300 million of a $350 million goal, including such landmark donations as Clarice Smith's $15 million for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and Comcast Corporation's $20 million for the Comcast Center.

But Mote has said repeatedly that development and capital campaigns are not principally about raising money.

"They are about the university building relationships, with its alumni and friends of the university through the quality people and quality programs on campus. If we succeed in building authentic relationships, fund-raising happens as easily as the women's lacrosse team scores a goal."

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children and four grandchildren.

Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow

Dr. Deborah A. Yow is in the seventh year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland ... a year in which she also has assumed the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, an organization with a membership of more than 6,100 athletic administrators representing 1,600 colleges and universities in North America and Mexico.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony to her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability. Likewise, her election to the presidency of NACDA is an indication of the respect with which Dr. Yow is regarded in intercollegiate athletics and education in the U.S. and Canada.

Also as a member of the NCAA Management Council and NCAA Division I Budget Committee, Yow presents a strong voice for excellence and integrity at the highest levels of intercollegiate athletics. In these national roles she has represented the University of Maryland and the Atlantic Coast Conference with a balanced and proactive voice.

Since taking over at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terropin athletics into o responsive, gool-oriented orgonizotion.
- Bolonced oll six of the neorly $30 million onnuol budgets (the first bolonced budgets for the Terropins in 10 yeors prior to her orrivol).
- Greotly enhonced the ocodemic suppart services provided to student-athletes, with on enviable exhousted eligibility groduotion rote of neorly 90 percent during her tenure.
- Led the Terropins to o notionol oll-sports ronking in the upper 15 percent of oll NCAA Division I institutions.
- Reorgonized ond upgroded morketing ond fund-roising efforts on behoff of Terropin othletics. As o result, privote gifts to othletics hove increosed 135% ond corporote sponsorship revenues hove increosed by 270% during her tenure ot Morylond.
- Implemented o strategic monogement model.
- Poid off opproximotely $7 million in operoting debt occrued before her orrivol in 1994.
- Developed o comprehensive Internet strotegy with monogement, morketing ond fundroising opplicotions.
- Significontly improved customer core in every oreo.

Morylond othletic director Deboroh A. Yow took over os president of the Notionol Associotion of Collegiote Directors of Athletics in July.

The Maryland Department of Athletics has made remarkable progress under Yow's leadership. Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past six years, Dr. Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves." As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles. She was recently singled out by Street & Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Reflecting on the status of the football program, Yow realistically points out, "Our coaching staff has made great strides in restructuring the Terrapin football program. Our return to a balanced offensive attack, a strong emphasis on defense and special teams, and the terrific turnaround in the overall academic focus of our football team clearly is beginning to show up in our competitive success. In addition, the high school grade point average of our 2000 entering football freshman class is an excellent 2.8. We will become consistent contenders for postseason bowls as our young football team matures and develops under our balanced and skillful coaching staff."

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

National Successes

The Terps enjoyed across-the-board success in 1999-2000, with the following varsity programs earning Top 30 rankings at one time or another during their respective seasons of competition, and two teams capturing national championships (field hockey, women's lacrosse).

Basketball (Men's)	Gymnastics
Football	Indoor Track (Women's)
Lacrosse (Men's)	Outdoor Track (Women's)

At the University of Maryland, Dr. Wellford has been involved in a variety of leadership roles. He was interim associate provost for research and for continuing education. He is chair of the law and justice committee at the National Academy of Sciences.

He serves on numerous state and federal advisory boards and commissions, and is a past (1995-96) president of the American Society of Criminology (ASC).

Dr. Wellford received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Maryland and his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania.

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in Cole Field House. It features a study center that includes 24 desktop computers, private study cubicles, a tutoring center, classrooms, and individual offices for four professional academic counselors, a learning specialist, an assistant program coordinator, and two graduate assistants. In addition, the center's extended site is located in the Gossett Football Team House, and includes office space for three professional counselors and a 16-station desktop computer center.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Prospective student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Mentor program
- EDCP 108-J (Career decision making and planning)
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-O (First-year transitions to the university)

EXCEL Mentors

Mentoring is a craft that is embodied in a person serving as counselor or teacher who provides advice and guidance to a novice learner. Educating by Creating Environments for Learning (ExCEL) is a mentoring program that establishes such a relationship. ASCDU hires and trains individuals who serve as mentors to student-athletes who have been identified as needing individual attention for learning strategies support.

The 2000 MAPS Directary

M.A.P.S. Directory

The Maryland Athletes Placement Source is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses across the country. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The MAPS directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

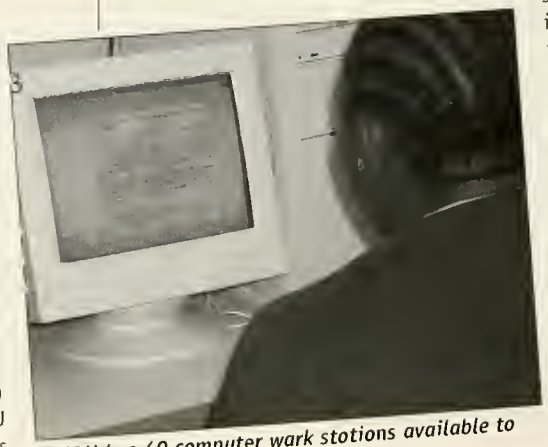
Career Internship Fair

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search, and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Student-Athlete Career Internship Fair, in which student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest.

ASCDU hasts an annual career fair at Cole Field Hause.

Summer Job & Internship Program

Due to the time demands of athletic practice and competition, most student-athletes do not have the chance to work or complete an internship experience. Employers desire to see work experience related to academic coursework on a resume. The Summer Job and Internship Program is one of the emerging services offered to student-athletes to meet this need. Student-athletes seeking employment opportunities and/or experience in their fields of study are assisted with locating prospects and submitting the necessary documentation to secure summer jobs and/or internships.



ASCDU has 40 computer wark stotions available to student-athletes.

Terp Choices

Personal growth is fundamental to all ASCDU programs and services. Terp Choices is a program that provides student-athletes the opportunity to identify their fundamental values, develop communication skills, and enhance decision making skills that will enable them to manage their personal health and well-being. Interactive presentations are given by trained student-educators who intend to illustrate to athletic team participants that an individual's choice may affect an entire team. This campus-wide program is partially funded by grants from the NCAA and ACC.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of a representative from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The main purpose of the council is to provide student-athletes with leadership experience and a forum for dialogue with members of the administration about their roles, responsibilities and needs as student-athletes at the University of Maryland.

Academic Support & Career Development

ASCDU Football Staff

Working closely with the football coaching staff is assistant ASCDU director Heather Arianna, who coordinates the academic support services provided to Terrapin football student-athletes. Heather is in her sixth year at Maryland. She received her bachelor's degree from Syracuse University in 1992 and a master's degree in college student personnel services from the University of Louisville in 1992.

Heather is assisted by two assistant academic counselors, Shawn Summerville and Phillip Nash. Shawn is originally from Erie, Pa. He attended Syracuse University where he earned a bachelor of science degree in health and exercise science. Shawn competed in intercollegiate athletics as a member of the Syracuse football team from 1994 to 1998. After graduating from Syracuse, he attended Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, Ill., where he completed a master's degree in higher education with a concentration in college student personnel. While completing his master's degree, Shawn worked in the SIU athletic department marketing office.

Phillip hails from Clearwater, Fla. He received a bachelor of arts degree in sociology in 1998 from Syracuse University where he was a four-year varsity football letterwinner. After leaving the Orangemen Phillip pursued a professional career in the NFL and spent time with the Detroit Lions as a defensive back. Phillip returned to his alma mater and earned a master's degree in elementary education in May 2000. While completing his master's degree Phillip was employed by the Syracuse City School District as a special education teacher.

C.H.A.M.P.S./Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success Program (C.H.A.M.P.S.) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) LIFE SKILLS Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically, and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops, and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled its 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to returning its former athletes for degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student is provided with a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth.

Medical Staff

Medical Staff

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the University of Maryland Medical Center's Sports Medicine program have joined forces to provide the best possible medical attention and care to all Terrapin student-athletes.

Orthopedic surgeon Leigh Ann Curl, M.D., serves as the head team physician. Dr. Curl is part of the growing University Sports Medicine program of the University of Maryland Medical Center, which also provides medical care for the Baltimore Ravens of the NFL, UMBC, Coppin State University and 14 high schools.

Says Deborah A. Yow, Maryland's director of athletics: "When we recruit student-athletes to play for Maryland, we owe them the best education, the best coaching and the best comprehensive health care. Dr. Curl is an excellent physician who understands college athletics. It is especially gratifying for us to partner with our medical center in the same fashion as other ACC institutions do with their medical schools."

Leigh Ann Curl, M.D.

Head Team Physician

Leigh Ann Curl, a former All-American basketball player at the University of Connecticut and a 1998 inductee into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame, is beginning her fourth year as Maryland's head team physician. She is on faculty as an assistant professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of Maryland School of Medicine.

Athletic Training Staff

Sandy Worth

Head Trainer

Sandy Worth, who has been affiliated with Maryland's athletic program since 1973, coordinates and directs the medical care for the Terps' football program in addition to her responsibilities as the university's head athletic trainer.

A native of Timonium, Md., Worth supervises and schedules a professional staff of six full-time assistants and approximately 25 student trainers who combine to provide medical assistance to the university's more than 600 student-athletes. Worth, a 1973 graduate of Maryland, joined the Terps' staff that same year as an associate trainer. She was promoted to head trainer in 1992.

During her career at Maryland, Worth has worked directly with five teams that have captured national championships — four in women's lacrosse and one in field hockey. In addition, she was the trainer for the women's basketball program when it won eight ACC titles and advanced to three NCAA Final Fours.

Brant Berkstresser

Assistant Trainer

Brant Berkstresser was named an assistant athletic trainer at the University of Maryland in October of 1997. Prior to his arrival in College Park, Berkstresser spent four years as an assistant trainer at Kansas State where he was the head trainer for men's basketball and an assistant trainer in football. He was a graduate assistant at Kansas State from 1991-93. In the summer of 1990, he interned with the New York Jets.

He earned a bachelor's of science degree in education with an emphasis in athletic training from West Virginia in 1991 and a master's in kinesiology from Kansas State in 1993. His wife's name is Gretchen.

Matt Charvat

Assistant Trainer

Matt Charvat is in his second year with the athletic training staff at the University of Maryland, handling responsibility with the football and women's basketball teams. Charvat came to College Park after parts of three years on the training staff at Morehead State, where he worked with the football, women's basketball and baseball teams.

A native of Hinckley, Ohio, Charvat earned his bachelor's degree in sports medicine from Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio in 1996. He played baseball at Baldwin-Wallace and later worked two summers as a trainer for the Canton-Akron Indians Double A baseball team. Charvat earned his master's degree from Morehead State in exercise science in 1998.

Strength and Conditioning

In today's highly competitive world of collegiate football, the off-field preparation of the student-athlete is a critical component to the on-field success of any Division I program. Dwight Galt, Maryland's director of strength and conditioning, believes strongly that a solid off-field training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development.

At the University of Maryland, the maximal development of athleticism is the primary goal of the strength and conditioning program. To accomplish this requires more than just strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, agility, flexibility, conditioning, plyometrics, and nutrition also play critical roles. The Terps' strength staff places substantial emphasis on all these areas, with special attention on the improvement of speed potential. Galt and his staff employ a wide range of state-of-the-art training methods to assist in enhancing all aspects of speed development.

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the country. Conveniently located in the Gossett Football Team House, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.

Maryland football players train with some of the best equipment available, including 20,000 pounds of customized York free weights, seven pieces of Keiser progressive air resistance machines, and a full line of Hammer strength equipment. The weight complex also features immense, self-contained power rack stations, Olympic lifting platforms with Eleiko bumper plates, and 10 upper body pressing stations.

Members of the Maryland football teom (below) enjoy first-class athletic focilities, including the Terps' well-equipped weight raom in the Gossett Footboll Teom House.

A meaningful goal of every Terrapin football player is achievement of the prestigious "Iron Terp" award, which is recognized twice a year to those team members who achieve extremely challenging strength goals, based on body weight. It is a great honor and matter of pride to earn an "Iron Terp" award, and the Terps must "pay the toll" to accomplish this.

The weight troining facility in the Gossett Footboll Team House is more than 7,000 squore feet in size.

Terrapin Club

Championships Begin With Scholarships

The Terrapin Club is composed of alumni, friends and fans of University of Maryland athletics. Your Terrapin Club contribution provides annual athletic scholarship support to our student-athletes. As a Terrapin Club member, you will enjoy the camaraderie and fellowship unique to this organization. Supporting the Club is a great way to stay connected with the University of Maryland, the state's flagship institution. Most importantly, you will feel the pride and satisfaction in providing a University of Maryland student-athlete with a quality education.

Your donation is vital. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics operates without significant university funding and receives no state appropriations or tax dollars for operational expenses. We are challenged to fund the 269 full scholarships presently offered and, in the future, to fund the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA for our 25 sports. We cannot reach this goal without your participation.

Building On A Winning Tradition

As we prepare to compete in the 21st century, Maryland athletics must ensure that our program is able to remain competitive by recruiting high caliber players and maintaining and attracting loyal fans. To do so, as part of Bold Vision • Bright Future: The Compoign for the University of Morylond, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics has entered into a historic effort to increase private financial support for the construction and renovation of athletic facilities.

Cheryl Harrison
Director,
Development for
Major Gifts

At the center of the plan for our future is a new, state-of-the-art arena and home for Maryland Athletics, the Comcast Center (rendering below). The Building Partners Campaign is the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' effort to raise $20 million in outright gifts toward the construction of the Comcast Center. Quality facilities attract outstanding student-athletes, great crowds and a tremendous amount of energy and excitement. The competition site for men's and women's basketball, wrestling, volleyball and gymnastics, Comcast Center will be the centerpiece of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Maryland. Our venue will again be the absolute best in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

By participating in the Building Partners Campaign, athletic benefactors have a chance to make a historic impact on the future of the University of Maryland and its athletics program. The Building Partners Campaign offers donors a unique opportunity to permanently link their names to the tradition of Terrapin athletics. Donors who make contributions of $25,000 to $1 million or more are entitled to permanent seat assignments in Comcast Center, in recognition of the substantial investment they have made in Maryland Athletics with their Building Partner Campaign contributions.

To obtain additional information on supporting the Building Partners Campaign, contact Cheryl Harrison or Dick Corrigan at 301-314-7020 or toll free at 800-653-7667 or visit our website at www.terrapinclub.org.

Maryland Educational Foundation 'Endowments for the Future'

The primary mission of the Maryland Educational Foundation (MEF) is to provide scholarship endowment funds in support of the athletic department's annual athletic scholarship expenses. By supporting talented, deserving student-athletes, donors ensure that our legacy of excellence will continue and grow. For more than 50 years, the MEF has provided financial support for Maryland athletics and is an important part of the department's gift-giving program. The vision of the MEF is to raise enough dollars through private gifts to build an endowment capable of permanently funding many of the university's scholarships now being awarded.

Dick Corrigon
Director, Major Gifts

What is an endowment? An endowment is a gift in which the principal is held in perpetuity, with only the income used (in part or whole) for scholarships. The MEF invites you to discuss gifts such as cash, securities, real estate, insurance, personal property, life income, gifts of pooled income funds, charitable remainder trusts, charitable gift annuities, wills and bequests. An endowment gift is truly a significant investment in the future of Maryland athletics. Contact Dick Corrigan or Cheryl Harrison at 301-314-7020 if you would like more information.

The M Club

A 77-year Tradition of "Athletes Helping Athletes"

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest and most respected letterwinner clubs in the country with an organization of more than 4,200 former Maryland varsity athletes.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for the 25 varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships and to cultivate social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund and support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts. Members receive the monthly athletic department publication (TerpTalk) for information about the current teams and news about your former teammates.

Byrd Stadium

Byrd Stadium, which celebrates its 50 birthday during the 2000 season, has been home to national championship football and men's and women's lacrosse teams, and to more than 50 ACC track and field champions. It hosted the Queen of England at a football game, and was the stage where the greatest high hurdler in history, Renaldo Nehemiah, performed his amazing feats. It also has been a regular site for the NCAA men's lacrosse Final Four, where several attendance records have been shattered.

Byrd Stadium — it's the first-class home of the Maryland Terrapins.

Situated at the foot of the campus' North Hill, the stadium is named for Dr. H.C. Byrd, a multi-sport athlete as an undergraduate who later became head football coach and eventually served as university president. His vision gave University of Maryland preeminence among Eastern campus sports facilities for decades and the impetus for the Terrapins to win more ACC championships than any league school.

Since opening on Sept. 30, 1950, when Maryland defeated Navy 35-21 in the dedication game before a school-record crowd of 43,386 fans, Byrd has undergone a number of major facelifts, three of which occurred in the 1990s and have resulted in its present form. The first came shortly after the 1990 home season, when the Tyser Tower press box — a fantastic five-tier, 90-foot high, 160-foot long structure — was built on the stadium's south rim. Tyser Tower accommodates 300 exterior luxury seats, a hospitality suite with theater-style seating, a spacious working press area, television and radio booths, and a photo deck.

Construction has been completed on a beautiful new football complex — since named the Gossett Football Team House — just beyond the east end zone. This $7 million building houses football coaching offices and meeting areas, academic computer lab, locker rooms, weight facility, and a medical support area. A bronze Terrapin sits in front of the team house, its installation coming in 1992 as part of the celebration of the 100th year of football at the university. Following the 1994 campaign, Byrd's seating capacity increased by more than 12,000 to its current level of 48,055 when a massive upper deck was added on the stadium's north side. The cost for the latest renovation exceeded $45 million.

The refurbishing of Byrd included new restrooms, bleachers and the stadium's first formal entranceway off of Field House Drive. The Gossett Football Team House, Tyser Tower, concession stands, rest rooms and stadium portals, designed by H.O.K. Architects of Kansas City, are enclosed in sand-molded brick that matches the Williamsburg-style brick used on most of Maryland's 335 buildings. The brick gives the contemporary architecture a timeless veneer and unity with the university's traditional Georgian look.

Byrd Stadium Highlights

1950 Byrd Stadium is constructed at a cost of $1 million. The original capacity was 34,680, but could be boosted to more than 50,000 with temporary bleachers around the rim of the stadium.

1953 Byrd is home to the national champion Terrapin football team.

1955 In a game billed as the "Best of the East" vs. the "Best of the West," Maryland defeated No. 1-ranked UCLA 7-0. Historians called that game one of the greatest of the decade.

1957 Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Phillip visited while former Terp head coach Jim Tatum returned to the scene of his greatest coaching triumphs. The Terps went on to upset North Carolina in what then head coach Tommy Mont later called his finest moment as coach.

1974 The legendary Bear Bryant returned to College Park with his third-ranked Alabama Crimson Tide on Sept. 14. Temporary bleachers were installed for only the second time in stadium history to accommodate 54,412 fans, then the largest crowd ever at Byrd. Later in the season, on Oct. 11, the second-largest crowd (49,647) in Byrd history watched the 15th-ranked Terps defeat 17th-ranked NC State 20-10.

1975 The Byrd Stadium attendance record of 58,973 was set when 14th-ranked Maryland hosted ninth-ranked Penn State.

1983 Byrd Stadium played host to its second-largest crowd, 54,715, as the 17th-ranked Terps met No. 20 West Virginia.

1985 The Terps, ranked No. 1 in the preseason by Sport magazine, set the all-time school home attendance record, averaging 49,385 for five home games.

1990 Construction began following the last home football game of the season on what was the first major athletic construction on campus in 35 years. The Byrd Stadium refurbishment was the first of its kind to be done without the supervision of Curley Byrd.

1994 Following the end of the football season, renovations continued with the addition of an upper deck.

1995 Seating capacity is 48,055 — an increase of 12,000 — following the completion of the upper deck on the stadium's north side. As needed, bleachers can increase the seating capacity to 62,000.

Gossett Team House

Whether they are taking advantage of the academic computer lab, spacious weightroom, or state-of-the-art sports medicine area, football players at the University of Maryland are provided the finest in facilities at the Gossett Football Team House.

Located at the east end of Byrd Stadium, the 46,000-square foot building is an all-purpose complex that combines football function with imaginative design. Truly the "home" of the football Terps, the $7 million Gossett Football Team House features a first-class locker room, coaching offices, multiple meeting rooms, a strength and conditioning center, computer lab, medical facilities, audio-visual center, and equipment areas. It was designed by the same firm (H.O.K. of Kansas City) that has performed the architectural work on some of America's premier collegiate and professional sports facilities.

Upon entering the main doors, student-athletes and visitors alike are greeted by an impressive reception area highlighting some of the great players and great moments in Maryland's storied football history. Nearby are coaching offices that overlook Byrd Stadium through oversized windows, as well as multiple meeting areas and conference rooms. A Terrapin Terrace, which surrounds the second-floor offices, is available for outdoor functions.

On the lower level, student-athletes make their strength and conditioning home in the 7,000-square-foot strength center under skylights that reveal more than 12 tons of workout machinery. The spacious dressing area features a double locker and footlocker for every player. The layout of the ground floor allows easy access to the many amenities the building has to offer. The locker rooms, which house a sauna and shower facilities, are less than 100 feet away from the second-floor conference areas. The nine conference areas are interconnecting and feature the latest in audio-visual equipment, some of which is available in only a handful of NCAA football programs.

As an integral part of the Byrd Stadium complex, the Gossett Football Team House is situated in the middle of campus and is within walking distance of dorms and dining areas. Both the practice fields and Byrd Stadium field are immediately outside the locker room door, or nearby. The steps leading down to the complex's front door face Cole Field House and the home of Maryland's outstanding academic support unit.

Each phase of the building — from the 3,500 square foot medical and hydrotherapy rooms, to strength center, to office suites — was designed to teach and support football excellence.

The building is named for Barry and Mary Gossett, long-time Terrapin supporters who have given generously to the athletic and academic programs at the University of Maryland.

Terps On Radio

All of Maryland's games are heard live on the Maryland Terrapins' radio network, which boasts one of the broadest coverage areas in collegiate sports. The production and sales of the broadcasts are being overseen for the sixth year by one of the largest and most aggressive sports marketing groups in the country, Learfield Sports of Jefferson City, Mo.

Maryland's broadcasts can be accessed on the World Wide Web at www.gamecruiser.com or via the Terps' official athletic web site, www.umterps.com.

Johnny Holliday — Play-by-Play

Johnny Holliday, now in his 22nd year as "Voice of the Terps," is considered one of the finest play-by-play announcers in the country. In addition to calling the action for the Maryland football and basketball teams, Holliday also hosts the Ron Vanderlinden and Gary Williams television shows. As the Terps' director of broadcasting, he also handles a myriad of speaking duties within the athletic department, ranging from banquets to golf outings.

His long list of credits includes ABC's coverage of the 2000 and 1996 Summer Olympics and the Winter and Summer Olympics in 1984, 1988, and 1994. In addition, he has covered championship boxing, the Masters, and the Liberty and Aloha bowls.

Holliday's announcing career allows him to lay claim as Washington's most versatile broadcaster, and among the best nationally. Whether it be in radio, where he was named America's No. 1 disc jockey during his rock 'n roll deejay days, to his public address duties with the Cleveland Browns, Oakland Raiders, and Golden State Warriors, to his work in Washington television for the Senators and Bullets, Holliday makes a complicated business look easy.

He brings that ease to the Maryland coach's television shows on Home Team Sports, the region's premier sports channel. He also does special events for HTS that include baseball, tennis, basketball and track and field. He is among the pioneer broadcasters for the sport of women's basketball, earning a Distinguished Service Award from ACC women's basketball officials for his work on that league's women's basketball telecasts.

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Ga., and through the years has worked in four of the nation's prime radio markets: Cleveland, New York, San Francisco and Washington. At one time, he was recognized as America's No. 1 disc jockey. He is a member of the Rock 'N Roll Hall of Fame.

In addition to his broadcasting accomplishments, he also has been extremely successful raising money for charity. Woshingtonion magazine honored him as a Washingtonian of the Year for his many civic activities. His basketball and softball teams, the Radio Wonders, have raised more than $1 million for charity. He is involved in Special Olympics, Catholic Charities, Operation Smile, and the Boy Scouts of America. He has served as television host for the Easter Seals, Muscular Dystrophy, March of Dimes and Leukemia telethons.

In 1998, he was honored by the Greater Washington, D.C. Chapter of Operation Smile with its 1998 Smile Award for his outstanding service to the community. In 1995, he was the recipient of the University of Maryland "M Club" Distinguished Citizen Award. He earned the Touchdown Club Award for outstanding achievement in sports broadcasting in 1991, and was the recipient of the Maryland basketball service award in 1999. He is an honorary member of the university's chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa and the university's Alumni Association.

Holliday and his wife, Mary Claire, are the proud parents of three daughters: Kellie, a physician who resides in Bel Air, Md., with her husband Steve, who also is a physician; Tracie, a neo-natal nurse at Shady Grove Hospital who resides in Potomac, Md., with her husband Chris, an attorney; and Moira, who attends St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia.

Jonathan Claiborne - Color Analyst

Former Terrapin standout Jonathan Claiborne is in his first season as the color analyst on Maryland's radio broadcast team. Claiborne, who lettered from 1975-77 as a safety, is the son of former Terp head coach Jerry Claiborne, who was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1999 after a 28-year career as head coach at Virginia Tech, Maryland and Kentucky.

Originally a walk-on at Maryland in the mid-'70s, Jonathan Claiborne eventually worked his way into a first-string safety position and earned a scholarship. He was a two-year starter and played on three bowl teams. The Terps were 28-7-1 during his varsity playing career.

Claiborne, who is now a practicing attorney in the Baltimore area for the firm Whiteford, Taylor and Preston, excelled on and off the field while playing with the Terrapins. He was a two-time All-ACC Academic selection and a 1977 CoSIDA Academic All-American. He also was the recipient of an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship in addition to earning a fellowship from the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Claiborne earned a double degree at Maryland (history and accounting) and posted a cumulative GPA of 3.57. He was a two-time winner of the George C. Cook Award (given to the Terp varsity football player with the highest grade point average) and also won the Talbot T. Speer Award for leadership, scholarship and athletic ability.

Jonathan Claiborne has spent the past three years and four overall as a color analyst on Towson Tiger football radio broadcasts.

Tim Strachan — Sidelines

Former DeMatha High standout Tim Strachan is in his fifth season as the sideline reporter on Maryland's football broadcasts. Strachan, a 1999 graduate of the University of Maryland with a degree in communications, was a student assistant coach with the Terps from 1996-99.

Strachan, who was paralyzed in a swimming accident before his senior year of high school, launched T13 Charities — A Foundation for Spinal Cord Injuries as a way to benefit others with spinal cord injuries.

He is a 1994 graduate of DeMatha High School where he was rated among the nation's top prep quarterbacks prior to his injury. A native of Kensington, Md., he was named the 1999 Washingtonian of the Year by Washingtonion magazine.

Player Interviews

All player interviews must be arranged through Dave Haglund, Kevin Messenger or Mark Fratto. Players have been instructed not to participate in interviews unless they have been arranged through the Media Relations Office. Interviews will be conducted Monday through the start of practice on Thursday. No interviews will be allowed on Sunday or Friday. Player phone numbers will not be released, and members of the media are asked not to attempt to contact student-athletes or relatives on the telephone. Players are not available for live call-in radio shows.

Postgame Interviews

Head coach Ron Vanderlinden and selected players will be brought to the team meeting room on the second floor of the Gossett Football Team House for postgame interviews. The team room is accessed through the front door of the complex, located one level above the playing field. Please enter the glass doors and follow the hallway to the team room on the right. Interviews with the visiting team coach and players will be coordinated by the opponent SID staff. The interview area for the opponent coach is in the weight room of the Varsity Team House, located outside of the stadium on the opposite side of the field from the Tyser Tower Press Box.

Practice Coverage

Practices are open to the media with few exceptions. Media wishing to attend practice should contact the Media Relations Office in advance. All members of the media are asked to view practice from the sloped portion of the field (along Stadium Drive). Once the team goes into pads in the fall, TV B-roll and still photographers will be allowed to shoot warm-ups, stretching drills and the first two periods of practice. Team meetings before, during and after practice are private. Media are requested to remain on the sloped portion of the field until signaled by a member of the media relations staff to come onto the practice field. Practices generally begin at 3:45 p.m. and conclude at 6 p.m. The team does not practice on Sunday during the season.

Ron Vanderlinden Interviews

Coach Ron Vanderlinden will be available to the media at his weekly Tuesday media luncheons, which begin at 1 p.m. on the second floor of the Tyser Tower Press Box. Coach Vanderlinden will also be available on the weekly ACC Teleconference (913-981-5507) held each Wednesday. Coach Vanderlinden also will meet with interested media members on the field following most practice sessions.

Press Box

The press box is located on the south side of Byrd Stadium in Tyser Tower. Access to Level 3 (print) and Level 4 (radio, television booths) is via elevators.

Statistical Services

Complete team and individual statistics by quarter; play-by-play; and postgame notes and quotes will be provided to the working media. Scores of other college games are provided before, during and after the game. An internal PA system will provide updated statistics and notes throughout the game.

Maryland vs. Florida State • Sept. 28, 2000 • 8 p.m.

On Thursday, Sept. 28, Maryland hosts defending national champion Florida State in a nationally-televised game on ESPN, in what is the Terps' ACC opener. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Last season, the Terps played in an ESPN Thursday game at Georgia Tech. Maryland hosted the Yellow Jackets in a Thursday evening ESPN tilt on Nov. 14, 1996.

Because of Thursday evening classes that are in session and various campus parking concerns, University of Maryland officials are anticipating heavy traffic congestion. It is recommended that fans and media arrive early to the stadium. The following information should prove helpful in dealing with the heavier-than-usual traffic and crowds.

General Information

- Classes will be held, making it necessary for students to park in lots that are normally dedicated to football fans during a Saturday football game.
- Steps will be taken to provide adequate parking for fans attending this game. However, traffic and parking modifications will still be necessary. We encourage fans to arrive on campus between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. the night of the game.
- To help ensure thot porking will be ovoiloble for oll students ond foculty ottending classes ond for oll footboll fons, it would be very helpful if friends ond relatives meet off campus ond proceed to the game in one vehicle.
- Fans should consider using alternate routes to access campus, including exiting from the Beltway on New Hampshire Ave. for southbound fans, and exiting on Kenilworth for northbound fans. (Avoid the Route 1 exit).
- Fans without season parking passes will be directed to the first available parking space not held for season pass holders, by uniformed parking attendants, at no cost.
- Recreational vehicles (RVs) without season passes are not encouraged and will be directed to an outlying lot.

Terrapin Club Members with VIP Lot Z or Lot AA Permits

- Campus parking will make every effort to hold the assigned-numbered parking spaces. However, due to the daily campus demands, assigned-numbered spaces cannot be guaranteed. A space will be held for all fans with these permits until 7p.m.

Terrapin Club Members with Lot 1 permits

- Lot 1 will be used by students before 4 p.m.
- After 4 p.m. this lot will become "exit only" for students, which will clear the majority of Lot 1 and should provide sufficient spaces for football fans.
- Lot 1 permit holders must follow the directions provided by uniformed parking attendants to the first available space.
- One parking space per permit.
- Permit holders will not be able to "save" parking spaces for friends. Permit holders wishing to park together must pull into campus at the same time.
